Washington, Jan. 31.—The resolution demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby was taken up today by the senate after it had passed unanimously the Walsh resolution proposing annulment of the Sinclair and Dohney oil leases.

Washington, Jan. 31.—A move to attach the Robinson resolution calling for the resignation of Secretary Denby to the Walsh oil lease annulment measure was made today immediately after the senate convened.

The amendment was sponsored by Senator Trammell, Democrat, of Florida.

Immediate opposition was voiced by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, who declared he would "resist very strongly such a declaration by Congress." There is only one way by which the legislative branch could remove a cabinet officer, he said, and that was impeachment.

RADIO WIDOW

She's in Courts at Last

Now comes Mrs. Cora May White, the first "Wireless Widow" to sue for "Radio Divorce." She alleges her husband thinks more of his radio than of her, and says she is worse off than any golf widow.

MRS. CORA MAY WHITE

Minneapolis, Jan. 31.—Enters now the "radio widow."

And hers indeed is a sad plight—beside which static, short circuits and "cut howls" seem real pleasures. That is if the allegations she sets forth in her divorce petition are true.

The first plaintiff in such a suit, in so far as the records reveal, is a pretty young Minneapolis woman, Mrs. Cora May White.

Everything was well in the White household until hubby bought his radio. But after that Gerald White paid far more attention to his receiving set than he did to her, his spouse charges.

Here are just a few of the things her petition says about him:

"He swore violently when local stations interfered with his tuning in on distant stations.

"Stayed up late with the loud speaker connected, so that she and her daughter were kept awake night after night and plunged into a nervous, irritated state seriously affecting their health.

"Insisted she listen 'while his friends in other cities sang jazz songs."

And this "interference" caused the good ship Happy Matrimony to "fade out."

Looks bad for poor hubby, unless the judge happens to be a radio fan himself. Then it ought to be easy sailing.

N. P.'S OLDEST ENGINEER DIES IN HOSPITAL

Frank Blanchett of Mandan Had Railroaded Since 1881; on N. P. 51 Years

Frank Blanchett, oldest engineer in point of service on the Northern Pacific railroad, died at 4:45 o'clock this morning at the Northern Pacific hospital at Glendive following an illness of about a month. He was suffering from a general poisoning caused when carbuncles on his neck broke inwardly allowing the poison to enter his system. The body will be brought to Mandan Friday evening and funeral services will be conducted by Rev. de Lion Commandery No. 15, Knights Templar, at 9 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church. Mr. Blanchett was 69 years old. He had been railroaded for 51 years. Since 1881 he had been on the Northern Pacific system with headquarters at Mandan.

He is survived by his wife and three step-children.

TAX STUDYING BODY NAMED

A central North Dakota tax studying commission has been named by Governor Nestos as follows: Earl R. Adams, L. Mortenson, C. J. MacLachlan, L. L. Russell, Dr. J. Crawford, Lynn J. Schwoebel, B. W. Hersey, all of New Rockford; J. F. Strauss, Harvey, Ernest E. Johnson, Grace H. Goranson, Oberon; C. F. Plummer, Minnewaukan; James Rusk, E. T. Halsas, Carrington; S. C. Stenrodden, Hamburg.

President of Russell-Miller Milling Company Expresses Resentment

Resentment by the president of the Russell-Miller Milling Co., that the competition of the state-owned mill at Grand Forks caused the closing of three mills is expressed in a story of the closing published in the Minneapolis Journal of Monday. The story follows:

Three of the eight mills of the Russell-Miller Milling company in North Dakota were closed down today because they cannot be operated at a profit in competition with the state-owned mill at Grand Forks which has the advantage of the taxpayer in meeting deficits. E. S. Helm, president of the company, said today. The last of the wheat in the mills was ground out Sunday. The three mills total 1,800 barrels in capacity and are situated at Bismarck, Jamestown and Valley City.

"The state mill had a deficit of $230,000 after the first eight months of operation," Mr. Helm said. "The taxpayer seems willing to go on operating the mill at a loss and is enabling the mill to compete on a basis on which we cannot operate. The price of the mill is not competitive. It is selling out of the state at a loss in order to get the business. We cannot afford to operate in this manner."

NOT MUCH CHANGE IN TEMPERATURE IS PREDICTED

No one will kick on today's weather—unless it starts the spring poets grinding out copy.

For it was 32 above zero at 7 a. m. today; it was 42 above zero at the highest point yesterday and the lowest at Glendive, one of Canada's cold points, was 28 above zero. At Fargo the lowest was 20 above and at Williston the lowest was 28.

Not only that but the weather man predicts generally fair tonight and Friday with little change in temperature.

The lowest temperature recorded in the weather report today was at S. S. Marie, where it was 16 above zero. The lowest at Williston was 28 above zero. The lowest at Fargo was 20 above and at Williston the lowest was 28.

A friendly "low pressure" is responsible.

MELLON HOLDS 1923 TAX CUT IS FEASIBLE

Secretary of the Treasury Approved Republican Committee Suggestion TO BE RETROACTIVE

Benefit of Economy of Government Would be Given '23 Taxpayers

Washington, Jan. 31.—Reduction of the 1923 personal income taxes which are payable this year on the basis of the Democratic tax revision plan which would cut normal rates 2 percent on incomes under $5,000 and 4 percent under $8,000 was proposed in a joint resolution presented to the house today by Rep. Garner, Democrat, of Texas.

Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee and author of the proposal adopted the committee yesterday to cut the 1923 taxes about 25 percent as a part of the general revision bill objected to immediate consideration of the resolution when it was asked for by Mr. Garner.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Secretary Mellon regards as practical and feasible the plan of republican members of the house ways and means committee to make the proposed income tax reductions effective on the 1923 payments which taxpayers will remit to the government beginning March 15. He believes the step would entail no difficulties on the treasury.

Under the optional plan of paying taxes in four installments probably 90 percent of the taxpayers can take advantage of the privilege of retaining money that might otherwise be turned into the treasury as a lump sum on the first tax paying date. The mechanics of dealing with a retroactive reduction in Mr. Mellon's opinion would be largely a paper transaction consisting of the placing by the treasury of a credit to the taxpayer on future installments. Little tax rebates, he believes, would be involved.

The treasury has no opportunity to estimate the decrease in the total income but some officials made the guess around $200,000,000 on the payments this year if the 25 percent reduction all along the line on tax rates is agreed upon and suggested in the ways and means committee.

THE COMMITTEE PLAN

Washington, Jan. 31.—A reduction in the personal income tax for 1923 and payable this year was decided upon by Republican members of the house ways and means committee. Chairman Green said no rate of reduction had been decided, but it might be as high as 25 percent. It would apply to the taxes after they have been computed and to all personal income taxpayers. Treasury experts estimated that a 25 percent cut would mean a saving to taxpayers of $225,000,000.

Mr. Green explained the reduction was aimed at immediate relief where application of the rates in both the Mellon and Garner plans would begin on this year's taxes. The action was first taken on new income rates which the Republican members of the committee decided to write themselves and put through in committee by a majority vote.

Representative Hull of Tennessee, a member of the committee and chairman of the Democratic national committee, announced last night that Democratic members of the committee had intended to present a similar proposal but in the form of a joint resolution which could have been taken before the house and senate for action before March 15 when the first installments on last year's taxes are due.

JURY VERDICT IS HELD OPEN

Coroner's Jury Convinced Shooting was Accidental

The coroner's jury, which inquired into the death of Amos Ives, presumably accidentally shot by himself at his farm near Britton late Tuesday, will meet again next Monday. At its session held yesterday afternoon the jurors appeared satisfied the shooting was accidental, but decided to hold the matter open until relatives arrive.

Witnesses were John Ives, who found the body, and John Gerling, a brother-in-law. The widow and children are en route here from Ohio.

Members of the coroner's jury are Capt. J. M. Belk, Rollin Welch and R. S. Potter.

DAWES BODY TO GET HELP FROM GERMAN HEADS

GOVERNMENT ACTION

Prepares Budget on Gold Basis With Intention of Stabilizing Marks

Berlin, Jan. 31.—(By the A. P.)—The scene of the inquiry into German finances shifted to the capital of the Reich today as the first committee of experts headed by Brig. Gen. Charles Dawes settled down to work on Germany's budget and currency problems. Assurances of the complete cooperation of the government and of the financiers and banks it appeared, would make the experts' task chiefly that of formulating their conclusions from the vast amount of data which will be laid before them.

The government itself has prepared a budget for the current year computed on a gold basis which it hopes will help stabilize the mark and facilitate the flotation of a new gold currency.

With this financial statement to work on the experts also will be confronted with exhaustive information on Germany's fiscal condition including a statement of the reparations payments in cash and kind she has already made. They will also be supplied with full information on the Reich railways which it is expected will figure largely in the experts' final plans for the salvation of German finances.

Tomorrow will find the second committee headed by Reginald McKenna of Great Britain opening its inquiry into exported German capital, the return of which it is felt, is of first importance in putting Germany on a "paying basis" from the standpoint of the reparations commission.

Berlin, Jan. 31.—Chancellor Marx summoned Brig. General Charles G. Dawes and the other members of the first experts committee investigating German resources to the chancellery yesterday afternoon to convey to them Germany's official welcome. There were present also Dr. Stresemann, minister of foreign affairs, Dr. Hans Luther, minister of finance, Eduard Hamm, minister of economy and the cabinet members and government executives.

Offer Assistance

The chancellor assured General Dawes that he and his associates in the government as well as the German nationalists, whose opinions and aid the committee might seek, were wholly at their services and that every accommodation required to facilitate the inquiry would be available.

Responding for the committee, General Dawes declared that unless the government declared that it was prepared to accept a solution of the European economic crisis and reparations problems, and that such unity also presupposed the utmost spirit of cooperation on the part of Germany in the joint efforts to arrive at an adjustment of the post war issues under consideration.

TWO FACTIONS CALLED

The first formal deliberation between the first committee of experts and representatives of the German government will begin today.

The commencement of the deliberations will inaugurate a series of uninterrupted conversations between the committee and officials of the ministries of finance and economics, as well as private financial and industrial authorities, which will extend over the next 12 days, according to best calculations of Brig. General Dawes, chairman of the first committee.

The investigation to be made by the second expert committee, which is to examine into the problem of coining back or uncovering hidden German capital, will begin Friday. They will consume less time than the budgetary and currency matters to be conducted by General Dawes and his associates, although the result, it is considered will have a pertinent bearing on the ultimate solution at the whole range of Germany's financial problems. This is particularly true in connection with the proposed establishment of a gold bank issue. The sentiment among the experts appears to be in favor of demanding that gold balances held abroad by German banks be pressed into the service of the new gold bank.

MINERS HOOT SECRETARY DAVIS AS HE IS INTRODUCED TO CONVENTION

Member of President's Cabinet Faces Convention and Handclaps Follow After John L. Lewis Quiets the Tumult and Asks For a Respectful Hearing

Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—Howls and hoots greeted James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, when he was introduced by President John L. Lewis to the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America here today. Lewis had asked for a respectful hearing for a member of the president's cabinet.

While the tumult proceeded Lewis again took the floor and shouted at the top of his voice to make himself heard.

"The honor of your organization is at stake. You are on trial before the country. Exercise self-restraint that our organization may not be publicly shamed."

He then requested those unwilling to hear the speaker to leave the hall. After prolonged hand-clapping Secretary Davis began to speak.

Opportunity Which Henry Declined Will Be Passed on Under Plan

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 31.—Henry Ford's opportunity to be the presidential nominee of the People's Progressive Party which he virtually announced when he came out for reelection of President Coolidge will probably be passed to Robert B. Pointer of Dearborn, Michigan, life-long friend of Ford and one of the first "Ford-for-president" boosters when the party selects its leaders at a meeting today.

Mr. Pointer is admittedly the choice of delegates for standard bearer of the organization which he recruited from among the original Ford backers.

STATE RESTS EMBEZZLEMENT CASE IN FARGO

Residence of Townley and Hastings For Last Several Years Considered

Fargo, Jan. 31.—After presenting testimony this morning tending to show that A. C. Townley and J. Hastings, charged with embezzling some $72,000 from the Consumers United Stores Company, had not made their residence in North Dakota for several years the state rested its case in the preliminary examination before Judge Leigh Monson but asked permission to submit further testimony regarding residence if the court did not think a prima facie case had been developed.

This precipitated a lawyers' tilt which ended in the state withdrawing its announcement of resting pending a conference as to further testimony.

Judge Monson said that he anticipated that the defense would place the defendants on the stand and have them as to their residence and in view of this prospect he did not think the state had established a prima facie case as to residence. He said that evidence showed that Townley had moved about the country considerably but that that did not mean that their residence had been established in any specific case outside the state.

CASE ADJOURNED

Fargo, Jan. 31.—In order to allow State to get more witnesses, the case against Townley and Hastings adjourned late today until February 28th.

160 ACRES IS HELD ENOUGH LAND BY THIS BURLEIGH COUNTY MAN

In an interview, O. B. Peterson, who lives 16 miles north of Bismarck stated that he is a firm believer in the value of diversification and intensive cultivation on the part of the farmers of North Dakota. He owns and farms only a quarter section of land on which he says that he makes a good living. In 1923, in addition to his family supplies, his quarter section netted him $1,830 of products. This included crop, wheat, oats and corn, a surplus horse and cow sold, 31 hogs, about 250 chickens and a considerable amount in garden products and eggs.

Mr. Peterson says that while he has been frequently told that a family cannot live off a quarter section of land yet he believes that his own experience proves quite to the contrary that a good living is available if a farmer is willing to use proper methods both of diversification and intensive cultivation of the land. He believes that North Dakota is by far the best country in which a man of small means can get ahead and that the future of the state is bright.

DRAKE MILL'S LOSS BOOSTED BY FORKS MILL

Competition From Big State-Owned Plant at Grand Forks Decreases Sales

LOSS NOW $89,678.11

Value of Drake Mill For Insurance Purposes Put By State at $18,508.75

The deficit of the Drake flour mill owned and operated by the state has increased to $89,678.11, according to the audit report of F. E. Luehe, Minot accountant engaged by the state board of auditors to examine it. The mill is valued on the books at $23,111.61.

While the mill showed a profit of $3,500.75 in 1922 it sustained a loss of $12,925.04 in 1923, which increased the deficit from $80,253.30 as given in the Bishop, Minn. audit report as of December 31, 1921.

Factors given for increased difficulties of the mill by the accountant are competition by the state-owned mill at Grand Forks, cutting of prices by independent millers, increased cost of raw materials, loss of sales which cut down running time, increased salaries, and necessity of employing a traveling salesman.

The accountant recommends that the administrative and selling end be entirely turned over to the Grand Forks mill. The summary conclusions of Mr. Luehe follow:

"The last audit made by Bishop, Brinkman and Company, as of date of Dec. 31, 1921, showed a deficit of $80,253.30 for the first two years and one-half of its operations, having the valuation of the mill with its furniture, fixtures and machinery at $30,115.35 and setting up a depreciation account of $8,939.46, it also shows a liability of $142,691.02 due the Mill and Elevator Association for moneys advanced and interest due."

Deficit Increased

"After charging off depreciation for the year 1922 and 1923, the book value of the mill is still $23,111.61 or $4,002.86 larger than the valuation as appraised by the Commissioner of Insurance for the purpose of insuring the property, which is set at $18,508.75.

"The operation of the year 1922 showed a net profit of $3,500.43 and the operations for the year 1923 show a net loss of $12,925.04, thereby increasing the total net deficit to $89,678.11, at the end of operations December 31, 1923.

"An interest charge of $3,408.39 and a depreciation charge of $10,144.66 was made in 1922, while in 1923 an interest charge of $2,323.54 and a depreciation charge of $1,840.00.

"The comparative Profit and Loss statement shows that the overhead expenses have increased in 1923, $3,757.61, due to the fact that the mill was obliged to employ a traveling salesman, at an expense of $3,541.19 and that the salaries of the office force have been increased.

"The manufacturing expense is $346.08 less in 1923 than it was in 1922 but the percentage of the cost of production to the sales has increased from 87 percent to 99 percent in the two years under review.

"This is due to the fact that the purchase price of the raw material was larger in proportion to the sales."

PROCLAMATION, Special Election.

WHEREAS, There were enacted by the Eighteenth Legislative Assembly of the state of North Dakota, certain laws among which were House Bill No. 282 House Bills No. 285, Senate Bill No. 233, and Senate Bill No. 275, all of which laws were approved by the governor, and

WHEREAS, Each and all of the above mentioned laws were by petition referred to the people for their approval or rejection in accordance with the provisions of the constitution and the laws of the state pertaining to the initiative and referendum, and

WHEREAS, The constitution provides that laws so referred "shall be voted upon at any state-wide election designated in the petition, or at any special election called by the governor, and

WHEREAS, It seemed evident that an extra election should not be called for the sole purpose of voting on these laws in view of the added expense to the taxpayers, but that it is desirable nevertheless that the laws enacted by legislative assembly and referred to the people by petition, the operation of which has thus been suspended, should be submitted to the electors for their approval or rejection at the earliest opportunity consistent with economy and a full and fair consideration of such measures, and

WHEREAS, Under the laws of this state which have been in force for many years, there will be a general state-wide election held on Tuesday, the eighteenth day of March, 1924, at which time will be held the presidential primary election and the township elections, and

WHEREAS, At such March election there will be no other state issues to absorb the attention of the voters to the exclusion of a due and full consideration of the laws referred, and that therefore such laws are likely to receive the careful study on the merits which every measure submitted to the people should have, and can best be submitted without additional expense to the taxpayers except such as would be incurred even if submitted at the next general election.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, R. A. Nestos, Governor of the state of North Dakota do hereby set aside, designate and proclaim Tuesday, March 18, 1924, as a special election day upon which day a special election is to be held simultaneously with the presidential primary election in each precinct in the state for submission to the electors for their approval or rejection of the above mentioned measures enacted by the Eighteenth Legislative Assembly, approved by the governor and referred to the people by petition, which said measures are more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

House Bill No. 282, being An Act to Amend and Re-enact Section 500 of the North Dakota Constitution.

CALLS WALSH

Washington, Jan. 31.—President Coolidge conferred today with Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, with respect to the naval oil leases.

Mr. Walsh went to the White House on invitation of the president and so far as is known it was the first time he had been consulted by Mr. Coolidge on the subject.

After the ranking senators in the Republican senate organization had been called at the White House by the president, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, who has had a dominant part in the oil inquiry under Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic floor leader and author of the resolution calling for the resignation of Secretary Denby.

White House officials said the president desired to take up with the two Democratic leaders the whole question of the investigation as made by the Senate committee and as contemplated by the executive branch of the government.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Congressional discussion and executive consideration of the oil land leasing has served to fill Washington with rumors and counter rumors. The most persistent involves the possible resignation of Secretary Denby and Attorney General Daugherty from the cabinet.

Reports that the two cabinet members had submitted their resignations to President Coolidge several days ago and that the President had refused to accept them were widely disseminated but were branded as "absolutely untrue" by C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge.

Senate Committee Forced to Postpone Investigation

Washington, Jan. 31.—Because public interest is so centered on the naval oil inquiry the senate investigation into the Bok peace award was postponed again today by the propaganda committee until next Monday.

Chairman Moses announced it was the unanimous decision of the propaganda committee that in the present situation the inquiry could not command the attention to which it was entitled.

Mrs. Esther Lape, in charge of the Bok policy committee can determine meantime, Chairman Moses said, whether she will answer questions put to her on Tuesday as to how the peace plans submitted were eliminated and one choice made. The committee at an executive session lasting half an hour voted four to one that this line of inquiry was within the purview of the resolution of inquiry.

President of Russell-Miller Milling Company Expresses Resentment

Resentment by the president of the Russell-Miller Milling Co. that the competition of the state-owned mill at Grand Forks caused the closing of three mills is expressed in a story of the closing published in the Minneapolis Journal of Monday. The story follows: "Three of the eight mills of the Russell-Miller Milling company in North Dakota were closed down today because they cannot be operated at a profit in competition with the state-owned mill at Grand Forks which has the advantage of the taxpayer in meeting deficits, H. S. Helm, president of the company, said today. The last of the wheat in the mills was ground out Sunday. The three mills total 1,800 barrels in capacity and are situated at Bismarck, Jamestown and Valley City. 'The state mill had a deficit of $230,000 after the first eight months of operation,' Mr. Helm said. 'The taxpayer seems willing to go on operating the mill at a loss and is enabling the mill to compete on a basis on which we cannot operate. The price of the mill is not competitive. It is selling outside of the state at a loss in order to get the business. We cannot afford to operate in this manner.'

Assistance Proffered May Hasten the Conclusions Experts Are Seeking

GOVERNMENT ACTION

Prepares Budget on Gold Basis With Intention of Stabilizing Marks

Berlin, Jan. 31.—(By the A. P.)—The scene of the inquiry into German finances shifted to the capital of the Reich today as the first committee of experts headed by Brig. Gen. Charles Dawes settled down to work on Germany's budget and currency problems. Assurances of the complete cooperation of the government and of the financiers and banks it appeared, would make the experts' task chiefly that of formulating their conclusions from the vast amount of data which will be laid before them.

The government itself has prepared a budget for the current year computed on a gold basis which it hopes will help stabilize the mark and facilitate the flotation of a new gold currency issue.

With this financial statement to work on the experts also will be confronted with exhaustive information on Germany's fiscal condition including a statement of the reparations payments in cash and kind she has already made. They will also be supplied with full information on the Reich railways which it is expected will figure largely in the experts' final plans for the salvation of German finances.

Tomorrow will find the second committee headed by Reginald McKenna of Great Britain opening its inquiry into exported German capital, the return of which it is felt, is of first importance in putting Germany on a "paying basis" from the standpoint of the reparations commission.

Berlin, Jan. 31.—Chancellor Marx summoned Brig. General Charles G. Dawes and the other members of the first experts committee to investigate Germany's resources to the chancellery yesterday afternoon to convey to them Germany's official welcome. There were present also Dr. Stresemann, minister of foreign affairs, Dr. Hans Luther, minister of finance, Eduard Hamm, minister of economy and other cabinet members and government executives.

OFFER ASSISTANCE

The chancellor assured General Dawes that he and his associates in the government as well as the German nationalists, whose opinions and aid the committee might seek, were wholly at their services and that every accommodation required to facilitate the inquiry would be available.

Responding for the committee, General Dawes declared that unification of the allies was indispensable for accomplishing a solution of the European economic crisis and that such unity also presupposed the utmost spirit of cooperation on the part of Germany in the joint efforts to arrive at an adjustment of the post-war issues under consideration.

TWO FACTIONS CALLED

The first formal deliberation between the first committee of experts and representatives of the German government, will begin today. The commencement of the deliberations will inaugurate a series of uninterrupted conversations between the committee and officials of the ministries of finance and economics, as well as private financial and industrial authorities, which will extend over at least 12 days, according to best calculations of Brig. General Dawes, chairman of the first committee.

The investigation to be made by the second expert committee, which is to examine into the problem of backing up or uncovering hidden German capital, will begin Friday. They will consume less time than the budgetary and currency assay to be conducted by General Dawes and his associates, although the result, it is considered will have a pertinent bearing on the ultimate solution at the whole range of Germany's financial problems. This is particularly true in connection with the proposed establishment of a gold bank issue. The sentiment among the experts appears to be in favor of demanding the gold balances held abroad by German banks be pressed into the service of the new gold bank.

ENGINEERS TO HOLD MEETING

Permission has been accorded all state highway engineers to attend the joint session of the North Dakota Society of Engineers and the North Dakota Chapter of the American Association of Engineers, by State Engineer W. G. Black, who believes much good will result from attendance at the convention.

MINERS HOOT SECRETARY DAVIS AS HE IS INTRODUCED TO CONVENTION

Member of President's Cabinet Faces Convention and Hand-claps Follow After John L. Lewis Quiets the Tumult and Asks For a Respectful Hearing

Indianapolis, Jan. 31.—Howls and hoots greeted James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor Davis, when he was introduced by President John L. Lewis to the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America here today. Lewis had asked for a respectful hearing for "a member of the president's cabinet." While the tumult proceeded Lewis again took the floor and shouted at the top of his voice to make himself heard. "The honor of your organization is at stake. You are on trial before the country. Exercise self-restraint that our organization may not be publicly shamed." He then requested those unwilling to hear the speaker to leave the hall. After prolonged hand-clapping Secretary Davis began to speak.

GRIFFIS OUT OF PRISON

Hamburg, Jan. 31.—Corlis Griffis, who was released from jail yesterday after serving part of his sentence for the attempted kidnapping of Grover Bergdoll, American draft evader, today went aboard the ship Albert Ballin at Suxhaven, bound for New York.

FORD FRIEND MAY BE ASKED TO HEAD PARTY

Opportunity Which Henry Declined Will Be Passed on Under Plan

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 31.—Henry Ford's opportunity to be the presidential nominee of the People's Progressive Party which he virtually announced when he came out for reelection of President Coolidge will probably be passed to Robert B. Pointer of Dearborn, Michigan, life-long friend of Ford and one of the first "Ford-for-president" boosters when the party selects its leaders at a meeting today.

Mr. Pointer is admittedly the choice of delegates for standard bearer of the organization which he recruited from among the original Ford backers.

STATE RESTS EMBEZZLEMENT CASE IN FARGO

Residence of Townley and Hastings For Last Several Years Considered

Fargo, Jan. 31.—After presenting testimony this morning tending to show that A. C. Townley and J. J. Hastings, charged with embezzling some $72,000 from the Consumers United Stores Company, had not made their residence in North Dakota for several years the state rested its case in the preliminary examination before Judge Leigh Monson but asked permission to submit further testimony regarding residence if the court did not think a prima facie case had been developed. This precipitated a lawyers' tilt which ended in the state withdrawing its announcement of resting pending a conference as to further testimony.

Judge Monson said that he anticipated that the defense would place the defendants on the stand and have them as to their residence and in view of this prospect he did not think the state had established a prima facie case as to residence. He said that evidence showed that both men had moved about the country considerably but that that did not mean that their residence had been established in any specific case outside the state.

CASE ADJOURNED

Fargo, Jan. 31.—In order to allow State to get more witnesses, the case against Townley and Hastings adjourned late today until February 28th.

160 ACRES IS HELD ENOUGH LAND BY THIS BURLEIGH COUNTY MAN

In an interview, O. B. Peterson who lives 16 miles north of Bismarck stated that he is a firm believer in the value of diversification and intensive cultivation on the part of the farmers of North Dakota. He owns and farms only a quarter section of land on which he says that he makes a good living. In 1923, in addition to his family supplies his quarter section netted him $1,830 of products. This included crop, wheat, oats and corn, a surplus horse and cow sold, 31 hogs, about 250 chickens and a considerable amount in garden products and eggs.

DRAKE MILL'S LOSS BOOSTED BY FORKS MILL

Competition From Big State-Owned Plant at Grand Forks Decreases Sales

LOSS NOW $89,678.11

Value of Drake Mill For Insurance Purposes Put By State at $18,508.75

The deficit of the Drake flour mill owned and operated by the state has increased to $89,678.11, according to the audit report of E. E. Luehe, Minot accountant engaged by the state board of auditors to examine it. The mill is valued on the books at $23,111.61.

While the mill showed a profit of $3,500.75 in 1922 it sustained a loss of $12,925.04 in 1923, which increased the deficit from $80,253.50 as given in the Bishop, Brissman audit report as of December 31, 1921.

Factors given for increased difficulties of the mill by the accountant are competition by the state-owned mill at Grand Forks, cutting of prices by independent millers, increased cost of raw materials, loss of sales which cut down running time, increased salaries, and necessity of employing a traveling salesman.

The accountant recommends that the administrative and selling end of the mill be turned over to the Grand Forks mill. The summary conclusions of Mr. Luehe follow: "The last audit made by Bishop, Brissman and Company, as of date of Dec. 31, 1921, shows a deficit of $80,253.50 for the first two years and one-half of its operations, basing the valuation of the mill with its furniture, fixtures and machinery at $30,115.35 and setting up a depreciation account of $8,639.46, it also shows a liability of $142,691.02 due the Mill and Elevator Association for moneys advanced and interest due.

"After charging off depreciation for the year 1922 and 1923, the book value of the mill is still $23,111.61 or $4,602.86 larger than the valuation as appraised by the Commissioner of Insurance for the purpose of insuring the property, which is set at $18,508.75.

"The operations of the year 1922 show a net profit of $3,500.75 and the operations for the year 1923 show a net loss of $12,925.04, thereby increasing the total net deficit to $89,678.11, at the end of operations December 31, 1923.

"An interest charge of $3,408.59 and a depreciation charge of $104.46 was made in 1922, while 1923 shows an interest charge of $2,322.54 and a depreciation charge of $1,200.00.

"The comparative Profit and Loss statement shows increased overhead expenses have increased in 1923, $3,757.61, due to the fact that the mill was obliged to employ a traveling salesman, at an expense of $354.19 and that the salaries of the office force have been increased.

"The manufacturing expense is $846.08 less in 1923 than it was in 1922 but the percentage of the cost of production to the sales has increased from 87 percent to 99 percent in the two years under review.

"This is due to the fact that the purchase price of the raw material was larger in proportion to the sales (Continued on Page 5)

GOVERNOR IN PROCLAMATION SUBMITS THEM

Announces Special Election To be Held at Same Time As the Primary

REASONS ARE GIVEN

Says That Election Laws Should be Submitted Without Extra Expense

The election laws passed by the last legislature and suspended by filing of petitions for a referendum will be submitted to the voters of the state at a special election to be held on March 18 at the time of the presidential primary, according to a proclamation issued today by Governor R. A. Nestos.

The election laws will be submitted at this election by the Governor because he believes that laws enacted by the legislature and then suspended pending a vote of the people should be submitted at the earliest opportunity, because a special election with its expense should not be held when it can be avoided, and because, with no other state issues before the people on March 18, they will have opportunity to give special attention to the election laws. The laws must be printed in a publicity pamphlet, and this will be necessarily issued on March 18 because the Pledge lien bill will be submitted then.

The election measures to be submitted are: Senate bill No. 233, providing for abolition of party declarations by candidates for state offices, making this election non-party matter. House bill No. 285, providing for nomination and election of candidates for the offices of federal officers including United States Senator, by parties at separate election.

The Governor also submits to the people's vote senate bill No. 375, which validated taxes levied against bank stock in the years 1919-1922 inclusive and ratifying the settlements made by boards of county commissioners.

The proclamation issued by the Governor is as follows: "PROCLAMATION. Special Election. WHEREAS, There were enacted by the Eighteenth Legislative Assembly of the state of North Dakota, certain laws among which were House Bill No. 282, House Bills No. 285, Senate Bill No. 233, and Senate Bill No. 375, all of which laws were approved by the governor, and

WHEREAS, Each and all of the above mentioned laws were by petition referred to the people for their approval or rejection in accordance with the provisions of the constitution and the laws of the state pertaining to the initiative and referendum, and

WHEREAS, The constitution provides that laws so referred "shall be voted upon at any state-wide election designated in the petition, or at any special election called by the governor," and

WHEREAS, It seemed evident that an election should not be called for the sole purpose of voting on these laws in view of the added expense to the taxpayers, but that it is desirable nevertheless that the laws enacted by legislative assembly and referred to the people by petition, the operation of which has thus been suspended, should be submitted to the electors for their approval or rejection at the earliest opportunity consistent with economy and a full and fair consideration of such measures, and

WHEREAS, Under the laws of this state which have been in force for many years, there will be a general state-wide election held on Tuesday, the eighteenth day of March, 1924, at which time will be held the presidential primary election and the township elections, and

WHEREAS, Under the laws of this state which have been in force for many years there will be a general state-wide election held on Tuesday, the eighteenth day of March, 1924, at which time will be held the presidential primary election and the township elections, and

WHEREAS, At such March election there will be no other state issues to absorb the attention of the voters to the exclusion of a due and full consideration of the laws referred, and that therefore such laws are likely to receive the careful study on the merits which every measure submitted to the people should have, and can then be submitted without additional expense to the taxpayers except such as would be incurred even if submitted at the next general election.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, R. A. Nestos, Governor of the state of North Dakota, do hereby set aside, designate and proclaim Tuesday, March 18, 1924, as a special election day upon which day a special election is to be held simultaneously with the presidential primary election in each precinct in the state for submission to the electors for their approval or rejection of the above mentioned measures enacted by the Eighteenth Legislative Assembly, approved by the governor and referred to the people by petition, which said four measures are more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

House Bill No. 282, being an Act to Amend and Re-enact Section 890 of the Compiled Laws of North Dakota (Continued on Page 5)

JURY TERM IS ENDED; MUCH WORK IS DONE

Jurors in the District Court Are Sent to Their Homes After Conclusion

LAST MAN GUILTY

Jury Finds Elias Elleflood Guilty — Bennett Case Dismissed

The jury in the December term of district court at Bismarck, N. D., was dismissed last night by Judge James A. Coffey of Jamestown, who presided, after having grinded away steadily for several weeks and disposed of a large number of cases on the calendar. Judge Coffey thanked the jurors for their strict attention to duty, which resulted in the completion of a great deal of business.

The last jury case was that of the state against Elias Elleflood, farmer, living south of Bismarck, who was charged with having in for investigation apparatus for the manufacture of liquor. State officers testified they found apparatus at various places, some of it apparently hidden away from possible search. Elleflood maintained that some man left the apparatus there.

The jury found him guilty and he appeared before Judge Thomas Pugh of Dickinson, who had been called in the case because of an affidavit of no justice, for sentence. The sentence was six months in jail, a fine of $200 and costs, with the stipulation by the judge that if at the end of 60 days the fine and cost are paid the court will hear an application for suspension of the remainder of the sentence.

Must Be Enforced
"This prohibition law must be enforced and I believe the courts will do it," said Judge Pugh. He said he believed the verdict of the jury was correct.

C. L. Crum, attorney for Elleflood, made a plea for clemency. He called attention to the fact that the regular panel was exhausted and several other jurors called in and that, pecuniary challenges being exhausted, the defendant was required to accept as a juror a man who not only did not belong to society, but who had been a member of the prohibition law but contributed to them and to anti-prohibition societies, and that possibly the jury was prejudiced. He also said Elleflood had been a farmer for 20 years, and had helped build up the country. It was the first time he had been convicted on such a charge. He said he believed a suspended sentence was an effective agency in preventing violations of the law.

Judge Pugh said the court was well satisfied the jury was very fair. "Everyone, every taxpayer, contributes to the enforcement of the law," said Judge Pugh. "This juror may have contributed a little more than others but his obligation was to enforce the law. The jurors did nothing more than their duty. You had an opportunity to present your defense. Notwithstanding your story the jury found you guilty, thereby disbelieving your story. I think the judgment was correct. The prohibition law must be enforced and I believe the courts are going to enforce it."

Case Dismissed
The only other case on the calendar had been dismissed late yesterday afternoon on motion of Scott Cameron, attorney for the defense. It was against Jack and Annie Bennett of Bismarck. The cases were brought jointly but separation demanded by defendants. The court dismissed them for want of prosecution, he stated, under the statute which provides that if a case goes over a term without trial it must be dismissed on motion of defendant. The offense was based on the alleged seizure of a quantity of liquor in the Bennett home on or prior to January 13, 1922. Mrs. Bennett was tried in July, 1922, the jury disagreeing. He was not tried.

Judge Coffey will remain here during the week to dispose of various motions and other court procedure. Judge Coffey granted a judgment notwithstanding the verdict to the city of Bismarck in the case brought by P. O. Hellstrom to recover $500 damages for alleged injury to the city commission in a public utility case in which he appeared. A jury gave him $100. The court held that the city commission could not incur liability except on a plea and pay vote, citing a supreme court decision.

SAYS DAIRYING NOT OVERDONE IN NO. DAKOTA

State Dairy Commissioner Sees Little Likelihood of an Over-production

CONSUMPTION INCREASES

Talked Over-production 15 Years Ago But it Has Not Come to Pass, He Says

Milk prices may not retain the unusually high level of the present and past two or three years, but there is little danger of over-production in dairying, with a resultant disastrous low price level, in the opinion of W. F. Reynolds, state dairy commissioner. Dr. Reynolds, in an analysis of the situation, said today:

"The question is often asked when talking to different groups of people in my travels over the state, where we, as well as others, have been talking diversification, 'if all of us go into milking and raising feed such as corn, sweet clover, alfalfa, etc., will there be an over-production of dairy products?' Citing back to Minnesota records, they have increased their production over 100 percent since 1910 and yet are receiving 35 percent more for their butterfat per pound. They talked over-production 15 years ago but no one is complaining now. In analyzing some of the following figures do not believe that any of us today will ever live to see the time when there is an over-production. Do not misunderstand me as I do believe the price will possibly be lower than it is now, not probably altogether on account of supply and demand but for other reasons, which may be classed as demand. What will cause this will be the factory employees will not probably always be as well employed and will not be consuming the amount of butter they are at the present time.

Consumption Increases
"On the other hand butterfat is higher proportionately than other farm products. Consumption is increasing very rapidly. One of the particular reasons for this is, it is caused by the educational campaigns, which have been put on by different schools and institutions plainly describing the food value of milk. The sale of skim milk powder has doubled in the last 5 years. This is used principally in bakeries. The number of cow testing associations has doubled in the last 6 years. These cow testing associations doubling in the last 6 years does not mean that we have doubled the gross amount of milk in the last 6 years. It does mean this, that about 50 percent of the cows that are used for milking purposes now will eventually be eliminated from the herds as they will prove to be unprofitable. They will perhaps eliminate one-fourth of the gross output. The balance of the cows that are kept in the herds will produce possibly at a profit.

"The quantity of ice cream consumed has doubled in the last 12 years and has increased more in the last 3 years than in the first 9 of the 12 years. The consumption of creamery butter has doubled in the last 15 years. Wages as a rule are good at the present time and work plentiful. People employed are reading educational literature that continues in the last 5 years, will double in the next 50 years. Figuring the time it takes to double the production of the cow and our increase in population and increased consumption without question dairying has the best outlook of any branch of farming. Do not jump in thinking about it as it is not all profits. A cow to produce at a profit must have good feed and reasonable care.

Population Grows
"The population of the United States has doubled in the last 29 years and prospects are that it will double again in the next 25. The number of cows on the farms has doubled in the last 44 years yet according to statistics we have less cows per thousand people than we had 80 years ago. In 1840 we had 287 cows per thousand people, in 1921 we had 221 cows per thousand people. Factory cheese production has doubled in the last 46 years and the average yield of milk per cow, if continued in the last 5 years, will double in the next 50 years. Figuring the time it takes to double the food it is the cheapest food value that can possibly be bought. If whole milk production continues at the same rate as during the last 5 years it will double in the next 23 1/2 years. This is not doubling nearly as fast as the consumption of skim milk powder, ice cream, or butter. Purebred cattle if they continue to increase in the next 2 decades as in the past they will double in the next 20 years. No one needs to be afraid of overproduction of purebred cattle of any breed. For different reasons the market demand may not be as strong at times as others but there will never be an over-production of purebred cattle.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?
The man who says Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is engaged in an effort to cut down the rich man's tax should read an article in The Saturday Evening Post by Roger Babson, noted student of business, who heads it: "Taxes are Paid by the Untaxed."

Mr. Babson points out that 25 years ago railroad, street railroad and water-power securities, the big issues of the time, sold to net the investor a rate of interest of about 4.75 per cent. The Federal income tax was enacted. It jumped. Purchase of the same bonds at an apparent net rate of 4.75 per cent ceased, because the income taxes lowered the net rate to the investor to such an extent that he got but 4 or 3.5 per cent. Bond buyers quit buying. This forced the interest rates up, in turn this increased the expenses of railroads, street railways, all industrial life. The interest rate being a part of the expenses of such a business, the extra cost was passed on to the ultimate consumer.

Buyers turned to tax-exempt securities, for even at a lower rate of interest they could get a higher net return. A few weeks ago a great issue of farm loan bonds, exempt from taxes, was issued. The net rate was 4.75 per cent, or about the same as obtained in industrial issues before the extra taxes were added. Many municipal issues in the east now sell at a 4.50 per cent rate of interest, whereas before the income tax went into effect they sold on a 4 per cent basis. The extra interest in this instance is directly met by the taxpayer.

A few weeks ago, Mr. Babson said, a manufacturer pointed out that after years of effort his company, making an automobile accessory, found a way to cheapen production costs materially. Naturally, Babson suggested the price would be reduced. He was informed the price would remain the same, the surtaxes would swallow up the whole saving. In this case the auto owner paid the increased tax.

Babson was examining the books of a large hotel. A room that rented for $4 before surtaxes went into effect now rented for $5.50. The hotel owner replied 50 cents was added for increased wages and one dollar for income tax and surtaxes.

An example of the cumulative effect of taxation is given by him as follows:

"The income tax that the farmer pays is added to the price of wheat; the income tax that the miller pays is added to the price of flour; the income tax that the baker pays is added to the price of bread; and the income tax that the storekeeper pays is added to the price of the individual loaf which you buy. Hence, when you buy a loaf of bread the tax of four groups of people is added and a profit on all these groups is added four times in addition. Get me? We not only pay the four taxes for these four groups but we pay a profit of, say, 20 per cent on each of the four sets of taxes."

Money spent on taxes is largely nonproductive, he points out. The government does not use a large part of its taxes to pay cutters of stone and hewers of wood, who produce wealth, but rather bookkeepers, accountants, detectives and investigators. They are useful but they are not creating and spreading wealth as are producers.

It at first seems wrong to pass the tax entirely on to the ultimate consumer, says Mr. Babson, but adds that it is a fact that interest rates, prices and wages ultimately adjust themselves so that all taxes, with the possible exception of inheritance taxes, are paid by the final purchaser of goods.

Most men, he concludes, are willing to pay a fair share of tax. But when it becomes a burden on industry it is passed on. He concludes that the Mellon tax bill reducing taxes ought to bring about a reduction in prices in the nation. He summarizes this conclusion as follows:

"The final retail sales each year for the United States are estimated at $30,000,000,000. It is now proposed to reduce the direct-tax bill by more than $300,000,000. This reduction is 1 per cent of the final sales. There are four turnovers before the final sale is consummated. If these turnovers were all at the same valuation it would at once become evident that this proposal would enable a 5 per cent reduction in general prices. Of course, in practice the values of the turnovers are excessively greater; or, to put it in another way, are excessively less as we approach the source. Therefore, it would not be fair to multiply the 1 per cent by five in arriving at the total figure. On the other hand, certain other factors come in which more than compensate for the reduction in valuation, and I believe that an estimate of 5 per cent is not unreasonable. When this 5 per cent in the price level is added to the direct saving in tax and the saving in the tax which the other fellow passes along, we have a final summary indicating somewhat as follows:

"That the tax-revision plan recommended by Secretary Mellon should save men getting incomes of from $2500 to $3500 per year a total of from $200 to $300 per year."

A complete reading of Mr. Babson's article is recommended. He is logical and has a habit of presenting with blunt emphasis real facts. He sticks to the main argument much as does Secretary Mellon. The man who is voting bonds for things which his community can get along without, who is voting for elaboration of governmental services which are unnecessary — he is going to be taxed for it whether he believes he is or not.

ABOUT WEATHER

Beginning about the time of the birth of Christ, the world had very wet weather for several centuries. Then came a dry spell that lasted 600 or 700 years. Weather fluctuates in long cycles. At present it looks as if at least the middle latitudes of our Northern Hemisphere are slowly passing out of a dry period that has prevailed for the past

200 years or more. So says the authority, Dr. Willis Luther Moore, in "The New Air World."

Much of our weather originates somewhere in the Far North. So weather observations up there will be the most valuable feature of the coming airplane and dirigible flights over the north pole.

BITING THE HAND THAT FEEDS HIM

Percy Trubshaw, editor of the Valley City Times-Record, reprints and commends an editorial in The Bismarck Tribune on the closing of the Russell-Miller mills. Then, lest the sting which Mr. Trubshaw feels, prove too strong he seeks relief by casting anathema on The Tribune as responsible for the Frazier regime and the state industrial program. Mr. Trubshaw's effrontery is hardly less pronounced than the asininity of his statements.

For it was Mr. Trubshaw who in the legislature with a great hurrah voted to provide the bonds that made it possible for the Grand Forks mill to expand and put his Russell-Miller mill out of business in Valley City.

And The Tribune finds its position in the past of "No Compromise With State Socialism" growing stronger every day. It has nothing to apologize for. We requote for the information of the erudite Mr. Trubshaw an editorial in The Tribune on February 15, 1921:

"There are some people who will say that we should give the industrial program a thorough try-out. We recommend to them an earnest study of the report of the audit company on North Dakota industries. The Tribune insists that we have tried it out and if that report has missed the mark and the present financial and political impasse teaches us no lesson we are blind bourbons. When a state changing administrations every two years attempts to go into business for profit, disaster is just around the corner. * * * We have tried it out rather extensively and expensively now—there should be no room in the independent program for any plank that even suggests going any farther with the socialistic scheme."

The Tribune has never deviated from this stand and challenges the "compromising" Percy to show otherwise from the editorial stand expressed in these columns.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO RUTH ELLINGTON

I am beginning to think, Ruth dear, that those pearls will finally prove the tragedy of my life. I have never worn them, never had anything to do with them that something has not happened to make me annoyed or unhappy.

Even the day of my wedding, Jack and I had a little quarrel that I have never told anyone about, not even mentioned to anyone but you. Some day I may tell you about it.

I know that you thought you were doing everything for the best and I will never cease to be grateful for all you have done for me, but, oh why, why did you go so late in the afternoon to look into my wall safe? You might know that was the time Jack would be home only now I'll just have to have another quarrel with him about you.

Jack has been very nasty about our friendship ever since Harry deserted you. He seemed to think that in some way you were to blame for it all. I tried to make him understand that you would hardly be to blame for Harry's running away with another woman, at least that you wouldn't know about it. But he took that high and mighty air that most men have when one of their sex goes wrong. It is always search for the woman and, you happening to be the woman nearest Harry, Jack was altogether too lazy to pursue his search any further.

He has been very suspicious ever since you opened the shop. He is always wondering where you got the money. He has questioned me very closely until I finally told him that if I knew—and I would not acknowledge that I did—I would not tell him.

He said to me, "Leslie, I insist that you tell me all you know about Ruth's affairs. I am not sure that she is the kind of woman with whom I wish my wife to associate."

percentage of little Jack I will tell you all I know about Ruth, for then I will know whether Sydney Carton is the kind of man that I want to be my husband's best friend."

I think Jack came very near knocking me down. He turned on his heel quickly and without saying a word went out, slamming the door so hard that I felt it like a blow and little Jack woke up and yelled.

I was rather glad of that, however. I hope John heard it.

My husband hardly spoke to me for a week, but there is one good thing about marriage, Ruth. Perhaps you noticed it when you were living with Harry. Husband and wife cannot be under the same roof in the intimacy of everyday life and stay open enemies. There must be at least an armed truce or a real separation.

INCOME TAX

Following is one of a series of articles covering provisions of the state income tax law prepared by the state tax department.

No. 3—Exemptions
The amended state income tax law of 1923 provides that every single person not the head of a family is entitled to an exemption of $1000.

Married persons are permitted an exemption of $2,000. Only one exemption is allowed the husband and wife, but if separate returns are filed they may divide the exemption between them.

The head of a family is entitled to the same exemption as a married person. To be classed as the head of a family a taxpayer must actually support one or more persons in his or her household. By supporting is meant contributing to more than one half of the maintenance of another.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not represent the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

OUR APPRECIATION

The Press editor appreciates keenly the endorsement for Governor given him by the Convention held here on Wednesday. We do not know just what we can say to best express our appreciation, but if we fail to properly express it in words we nevertheless have it in our heart and mind.

The men and women who comprised this Convention are of the rank and file of the Nonpartisan League, and of our best citizenry. With a very few exceptions, we have known all of them for years and they have known us and have known our life, public activities and work, and under the circumstances, we ask for no higher compliment than to have these men and women, God's noblemen and noblewomen, endorse us for the highest office of our state.

The endorsement came as a surprise, for although we have heretofore been mentioned for Governor, we did not know that our own home people were looking toward our nomination and election, and while we are not saying that we are a candidate for Governor, we assure our good friends that, should we ever come to serve the people of North Dakota as Governor, we would be the very best kind of Governor that we would know how to be and permit nothing to stand between us and our whole duty to all the people.

You good, true friends, THANK YOU. Divide Center, Farmers Press, edited by Roy Frazier.

SENATOR INGERSON'S STAND

The position taken by Senator Ralph Ingerson, one of the state leaders of the Nonpartisan League, that the league should abandon its former policy of opposing the Democratic party machinery, has been a surprise to many. The issues which the league has brought to the front are such that National party line have become entirely irrelevant in the state elections. The League has been a separate political party in fact and should be so recognized in the state election machinery. The present situation is unjust to both the league and its opponents.

It should be pointed out, however, that the very change which Senator Ingerson demands would be brought about for all practical purposes by the adoption of the Nonparty election laws which were passed at the last session of the state legislature, and which are to be voted on by popular referendum.

If these laws are approved by the people the practical result will be the establishment of a logical division line in state politics, and as long as the league continues to be the factor which it is today, that line will be drawn on the Nonpartisan, and Independent issue. Senator Ingerson and those league who agree with him can thus secure the result they desire by supporting these election laws.

XIX (continued)
"You write singularly pure English, in spite of what seems to me a marked individuality of style, and—ah—your apparent delight in slang!" Her voice was quite even, although her eyes had glowed and sparkled and melted at his poetic phantasma of her past (as what woman's would not?). "I find a rather painful effort to be—what do you call it? highbrow?—in some of your writers."

"The youngsters. I went through that phase. We all do. But we emerge. I mean, of course, when we have anything to express. Metaphysical verbosity is a friendly refuge. But as a rule years and hard knocks drive us to directness of expression. . . . But poets must begin young. And New York is not exactly a hot-bed of romance."

"Do you think that romance is impossible in New York?" she asked irresistibly.

"I—oh—well, what is romance? Of course, it is quite possible to fall in love in New York—although anything but the ideal setting. But romance!"

"Surely the sense of mystery between a man and woman irresistibly attracted may be as provocative in a great city as in a feudal castle surrounded by an ancient forest—or on one of my Dolomite lakes. Is it not that which constitutes romance—the 'breathless trembling on the verge of the unexplored—that isolates two human beings as authentically—I am picking up your vocabulary—as if they were alone on a star in space? Is it not possible to dream here in New York?—and surely dreams play their part in romance." Her fingertips, moving delicately on the surface of her lap, had a curious suggestion of playing with fire.

"One needs leisure for dreams." He stood up suddenly and leaned against the mantelpiece. The atmosphere had become electric. "A good thing, too 's far as some of us are concerned. The last thing for a columnist to indulge in is dreams. Fine hash he'd have for his readers next morning!"

"Do you mean to say that none of you clever young men fall in love?"

"Every day in the week, some of them. They even marry—and tell fatuous yarns about their babies. No doubt some of them have even gloomed through brief periods of unreciprocated passion. But they don't look very romantic to me."

"Romance is impossible without imagination, I should think. Aching for what you cannot have or falling in love reciprocally with a charming girl is hardly romance. That is a gift—like the spark that goes to the making of Art."

"Are you romantic?" he asked harshly. "You look as if born to inspire romance—dreams—like a beautiful statue or painting—but mysterious as you make yourself—and, I believe, are in essence—I should never have associated you with the romantic temperament. Your eyes—as they too often are—Oh, no!"

"It is true that I have never had a romance."

"You married—and very young."

"Oh, what is young love? The urge of the race. A blaze that ends in babies or ashes. Romance?"

"You have—other men have loved you."

"European men—the type my lot was cast with—may be romantic in their extreme youth—I have never been attracted by men in that stage of development, so I can't surprise you. But when a man has learned to adjust passion to technique there is not much romance left in him."

"Are you waiting for your romance, then? Have you come to this more primitive civilization to find it?"

She raised her head and looked him full in the eyes. "No, I did not believe in the possibility then."

"May I have a high-ball?"

"Certainly."

He took his drink on the other side of the room. It was several minutes before he returned to the hearth. Then he asked without looking at her: "How do you expect to find romance if you shut yourself up?"

"I wanted nothing less. As little as I wanted it to be known that I was here at all."

"That damnable mystery! Who are you?"

"Nothing that you have imagined."

He plunged down the steps into a snowstorm. Even during his precipitate retreat he had realized the advisability of telephoning for a taxi, but had been incapable of the anti-climax. He pulled his hat over his eyes, turned up the collar of his coat, and made his way hastily toward Park avenue. There was not a cab in sight. Nor was there a rumble in the tunnel; no doubt the cars were snow-bound. He hesitated only a moment; it would hardly take him longer to walk to his hotel than to the Grand Central Station, but he crossed over to Madison avenue at once, for it was bitter evening and there was a bare chance of picking up a cab returning from one of the hotels.

But the narrow street between its high dark walls looked like a desert of mountain pass rapidly filled with snow. The tall street lamps shed a sad and ghostly beam. They might have been the hooded torches of cave dwellers sheltering from enemies and the storm in those perpendicular fastnesses. Far down, a red sphere glowed dimly, exalting the illusion. He almost fancied he could see the outposts of primeval forests bending over the canyon, and wondered why the "Poet of Manhattan" had never immortalized a scene at once so sinister and so lovely.

And no stillness of a high mountain solitude had ever been more intense. Not even a muffled roar from trains on the distant "L's." Clavering wondered if he really were in New York. The whole evening had been unreal enough. Certainly all that was prosaic and ugly and feverish had been obliterated by what it was no flight of fancy may only surprise—when a man has learned to adjust passion to technique there is not much romance left in him."

She raised her head and looked him full in the eyes. "No, I did not believe in the possibility then."

HOME ECONOMICS STUDIED

At the regular meeting of the Wednesday Study Club, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. F. S. Henry, the subject of Home Economics was considered. A paper and talk upon "Modern Laundry Method" by Mrs. W. E. Lahr proved to be very interesting and educational to all. Mrs. Lahr brought out the thought that the modern housewife is no longer interested in the physical part of the laundry work, but with the science of laundry work. The science of laundry work is divided into subjects, the chemistry and mechanical of laundry processes. The mechanical processes are varied but all consist of the principle of forcing the soapy water through the fabric of the various materials in order that the dirt and soil may be removed.

The chemistry of the laundry proves to be rather more interesting and difficult. This treats of the solvents for different stains and soils common to laundry work. Here to fore it was deemed necessary that boiling water must be used in cleaning clothes but in the study of the science of laundry Mrs. Lahr proved that this was an exploded theory. The methods recommended in the course here, degeneration was practically the same as those used by the Capital Steam Laundry of this city.

BENEFIT PARTY, SUCCESS

The benefit card party given by the committee from the Catholic Foresters at the home of Mrs. J. W. Curran, last evening was quite successful. Nine tables were set at play during the evening, and J. H. Hendon received the prize for high score and Mrs. Peter Allen won the consolation prize. A number were present who did not play during the evening. Music was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. J. W. Curran, Mrs. T. E. Flaherty, Mrs. J. H. Hendon and Mrs. Hugh McGarvey.

EASTERN STAR AND MASONIC DANCE

Elaborate plans are under way for the Eastern Star and Masonic dance to be given Friday evening in the temple. Dancing will begin at 9:30 and a luncheon will be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star at mid-night. A novelty program has been arranged by the committee on arrangements. Wagner orchestra has just received the latest "song hits" and an excellent program is promised.

HY-LO BRIDGE CLUB

The Hy-Lo Bridge Club was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. B. Hoffman at her apartment in the Tribune Building. Mrs. J. I. Setzer received high score. Mrs. Leo DeKoch and Mrs. J. F. Williams were guests of the club as substitutes. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. H. L. Spohn, 516 Seventh Street.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB MET

The Fortnightly Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. P. J. Meyer, 910 Fourth Street, yesterday afternoon. "Language and Literature" was a paper given by Mrs. E. B. Cox and Mrs. G. A. Rawlings led the discussion. A paper to have been given by Mrs. P. R. Fields did not arrive in time to be read at this meeting but will be presented later.

ANNUAL LUTEFISK DINNER

The ladies of the Trinity English Lutheran church will hold their annual Lutfisk dinner in the McCabe Methodist church parlors, Friday evening. Lutfisk will be the main feature of the dinner, but "Lefse Flatbread," "Bulle Fiske" and various Norwegian cakes will be served. Serving will begin at 5:30 p. m.

NARCISSEUS CLUB DANCE

The Narcisseus Dancing Club will hold its second dance of the winter season at Elks Hall tonight at 8:30 p. m. About forty couples, members of the club, are expected to be present.

LOCAL SCHOOL WINS HONOR

Chapter of Playmakers Is Given Bismarck High School

The Bismarck high school was granted a chapter of Junior Playmakers at the last regular meeting of the Dakota Playmakers of the university. It is the tenth school to be recognized. It is to be known as the Julia Marlowe chapter. Miss Dorothy Dakin of the high school English staff is the local director. The student officers are: Chairman, Richard Day; Recorder, Dorothy Birdsell; Librarian, Mary Coyou; and Custodian of Funds, Evelyn George.

The Bismarck high school formed a temporary organization early last year and has worked steadily and consistently since to gain the goal of junior membership. It has produced very creditably James Montgomery's "Nothing But the Truth" and "Come Out of the Kitchen" by A. E. Thomas. The Bismarck Chapter is unique in that it specifies that a member of Junior Playmakers may not be a member of the debating team also, and to participate in any extra-curricular activity a pupil's work must be of passing grade in every subject and his average not below 80. The Bismarck Chapter has laid the solid foundation which is the only way to work of a superior standard. An additional factor which predicts success for this particular group is that it not only has the support of its superintendent, but of the whole school as well.

All Junior Playmaker groups are granted purely on the basis of dramatic merit. There are no limits because of size or rank of school. All Junior Playmaker chapters are members of a state-wide organization, the parent chapter of which is the Dakota Playmakers organization at the university. They are guided and helped by the mother chapter. Some of the advantages they offer are: Opportunity for the development of dramatic talent; for the production and appreciation of good plays; for a comparison of the standard of high school dramatics in one school with that of another and with that of the university and an opportunity to keep in close touch with dramatic activities and standards in general.

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR MRS. J. C. TAYLOR

Funeral services for Mrs. John C. Taylor, of Steele, who passed away early Saturday morning in a local hospital, were held from the family residence, yesterday afternoon. Rev. D. T. Ford, an old family friend, conducted a most beautiful and impressive funeral ceremony. Ferris Kepler of Dawson rendered several beautiful vocal selections during the services.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. One piece especially, a broken wheel, presented by the American Legion Post No. 14 of which Mrs. Taylor had three sons as members, was most beautiful. The Masons, Legion Auxiliary and Knights of Pythias attended the funeral in a body and all business houses of Steele were closed during the afternoon out of respect to the departed and family. Several relatives from the West arrived for the funeral and Miss Alice Luke and Miss Alma Zierhager, nurses from the Bismarck Hospital attended the funeral.

Mrs. MacGilvery Succumbs After An Operation

Mrs. Amy Jane MacGilvery, 48 years old, of Enderlin, a former resident of Bismarck, died in a local hospital about 6 o'clock this morning after an operation. Mrs. MacGilvery was reared in Covington, Kentucky, is survived by her husband, V. A. MacGilvery, who is engaged in the newspaper business in Enderlin, and one son, five years old. Two sisters reside in Kentucky.

Mrs. MacGilvery was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church and funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Burns. The last rites will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Perry Undertaking parlors. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Glycerine Mixture Prevents Appendicitis

Simple glycerine, buckhorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adierika is excellent to guard against appendicitis. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adierika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes all gases and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Helps any case gas on the stomach in TEN minutes. Joe, Breslow, Druggist.

"CASCARETS" 10c IF SICK, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

"They Work While You Sleep." When you feel sick, dizzy, upset, when your head is dull or aching, when your stomach is full or gassy, just take one or two pleasant "Cascarets" to relieve constipation and biliousness. No gripping, no castor oil, no laxative on earth for Men, Women and Children. 10c boxes, also 25 and 50c sizes—any drug store.

REHEARSALS PROGRESSING FOR BIG SHOW

"Over the Hill," to be presented at the city auditorium next Monday, February 4, will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m. There will be a matinee at 4 p. m. Rehearsals are progressing rapidly under the direction of J. M. Golden.

The story of the play, which was founded on Will Carleton's famous poem, "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse," is one that appeals to all classes. There is nothing finer than the story told in this play. The mother scene especially is described as beautiful.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL

Friendship, in its most beautiful form, is brought to the screen with telling effect in the William Fox picture from the story of Ben-Amos Williams, called "Not A Drum Was Heard," which comes to the Capitol theater tomorrow for two days. An ideal only to work of a superior standard. An additional factor which predicts success for this particular group is that it not only has the support of its superintendent, but of the whole school as well.

THE ELTINGE

How an American engineer masquerading as an Oriental is mistaken through a strange case of resemblance to a Chinese overlord and placed in the powerful position of the mandarin will be dramatically unfolded in the screen version of "Thundergate" at the Eltinge Theatre Friday and Saturday.

The plot reaches a highly dramatic pitch when the pretty slave-bride of the real Lord of Thundergate is brought before him and he learns that she is a white girl who has been abducted by the Chinese. He finds, however, a happy way of solving these problems.

Bismarck Boys

At the Pioneer Council last week Chief Ben Jacobson presented Mr. Spencer Boise who in a very interesting way explained to the boys what to look for in music. Messrs. Hoskins and Meyer very kindly loaned the boys a victrola with which Mr. Boise explained his various selections from the masters.

In the Pioneer basketball league Carl Kositzky's men demonstrated their ability as basket getters over Carl Martin's team by the score of six to four. Francis Nussle's crew won a hard fought game from Ben Jacobson by the narrow margin of 9 to eight. Jack Menger's team won from Harold Corder two to none. Next Saturday morning Carl Kositzky and Francis Nussle will play off for the January championship while Ben Jacobson and Carl Martin play for third place. The February teams will be selected next Saturday boys wishing to play on a team should be at the High School Gymnasium at 10:30 o'clock.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. ## THE PHILOSOPHY OF WILKINS MICAWBER

There is a formula for success in Micawber's observation in Charles Dickens' "David Copperfield" that if a man has an income of twenty pounds a year and spends twenty-one he will be miserable, but if he spends only nineteen pounds he will be happy.

Spending more than you can leads inevitably to debt—the ball and chain which hinders progress and stifles initiative. Living within one's income is essential to future happiness and prosperity.

HOME ECONOMICS STUDIED

At the regular meeting of the Wednesday Study Club, held yesterday at the home of Mrs. F. S. Henry, the subject of Home Economics was considered. A paper and talk upon Modern Laundry Method by Mrs. W. E. Lahr proved to be very interesting and educational to all. Mrs. Lahr brought out the thought that the modern housewife is no longer interested in the physical part of the Laundry work but with the Science of Laundry work. The science of Laundry Work is divided into subjects, the chemistry and Mechanical of Laundry processes. The mechanical processes are varied but all consist of the principle of forcing the soapy water through the fabric of the various materials in order that the dirt and soil may be removed.

The Chemistry of the laundry proves to be rather more interesting and difficult. This treats of the solvents for different stains and soils common to laundry work. Here to fore it was deemed necessary that boiling water must be used in cleaning clothes but in the study of the Science of Laundry Mrs. Lahr proved that this was an exploded theory. The methods recommended in the course of her discussion were practically the same as those used by the Capital Steam Laundry of this city.

BENEFIT PARTY, SUCCESS

The benefit card party given by the committee from the Catholic Holy Foresters at the home of Mrs. J. W. Curran, last evening was quite a successful party. Nine tables were laid during the evening, and J. H. Healey received the prize for high score and Mrs. Peter Allen won the consolation prize. A number were present who did not play during the evening. Music was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. J. W. Curran, Mrs. T. E. Flaherty, Mrs. J. H. Healey and Mrs. Hugh McGarvey.

EASTERN STAR AND MASONIC DANCE

Elaborate plans are under way for the Eastern Star and Masonic dance to be given Friday evening in the temple. Dancing will begin at 9:30 and a luncheon will be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star at midnight. A novelty program has been arranged by the committee on arrangements. Wagner's orchestra has just received the latest "song hits" and an excellent program is promised.

HY-LO BRIDGE CLUB

The Hy-Lo Bridge Club was delightfully entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. R. Hoffman at her apartment in the Tribune Building. Mrs. J. I. Setzer received high score. Mrs. Leo DeRoche and Mrs. F. Williams were guests of the club as substitutes. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. H. E. Spohn, 516 Seventh Street.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB MET

The Fortnightly Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. P. J. Meyer, 910 Fourth Street, yesterday afternoon. "Language and Literature" was a paper given by Mrs. E. B. Cox and Mrs. G. A. Rawlings led the discussion. A paper to have been given by Mrs. P. B. Fields did not arrive in time to be read at this meeting but will be presented later.

ANNUAL LUTHERAN DINNER

The ladies of the Trinity English Lutheran church will hold their annual Lutheran dinner in the McCabe Methodist church parlors, Friday evening. Luncheon will be the main feature of the dinner but coffee, "fishbowl" and "Bulle Pulse" and various Norwegian cakes will be served. Serving will begin at 5:30 p. m.

NARCISSUS CLUB DANCE

The Narcissus Dancing Club will hold its second dance of the winter season at Elks Hall tonight at 9:30 p. m. About forty couples, members of the club, are expected to be present.

PRE-NUPITAL PARTY

Mrs. R. W. Folsom entertained the employees and former employees of the A. W. Lucas Co. informally at a party in honor of Miss Mary Anderson, a former employee of the company, whose marriage to Charles H. Wunders of Sioux City, Iowa, will be a social event of early February.

Thirty-six guests were present and spent the early part of the evening in hemming towels and dish towels for the honor guest. Dancing and cards were enjoyed until a late hour, when the hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon, assisting her were Mrs. Altman and Miss Anderson. A twenty-six piece chest of silver and a beautiful wool blanket were then presented to the guest. This was the third of a series of showers for Miss Anderson given by Bismarck friends.

ENTERTAIN MID WEEK BRIDGE CLUB

The Mid-Week Bridge Club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. K. A. McCord at her home, yesterday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played with high score and the prize going to Mrs. R. B. Murphy. Cut flowers and potted plants were used throughout the rooms as decorations. A very dainty luncheon was served by the hostess at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Harry Woodmansee was a guest of the club as a substitute.

ATTEND BAPTIST CONVENTION

Rev. George B. Newcomb, Rev. L. R. Johnson and Rev. O. S. Jacobson left on No. 7 today to attend the executive meeting of the Baptist State convention which convenes in Grand Forks. Rev. Newcomb, as president of the state convention will preside. Rev. Dr. Peter Wright of New York, one of the denominational secretaries will be present at these executive meetings.

PICNIC CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mrs. W. A. McDonald was hostess to members of the Winter Picnic Club yesterday at her home, 517 Mandan Avenue. Twelve were present at the 12:30 noon picnic dinner served and after a pleasant hour spent in social conversation and visiting, bridge was played until late in the afternoon.

RETURNS HOME

LOCAL SCHOOL WINS HONOR

Chapter of Playmakers Is Given Bismarck High School

The Bismarck high school was granted a chapter of Junior Playmakers at the last regular meeting of the Dakota Playmakers of the university. It is the tenth school to be so recognized. It is to be known as the Julia Marlowe chapter. Mrs. Dorothy Dakin of the high school English staff is the local director. The student officers are: Chairman, Richard Day; Recorder, Dorothy Birdsell; Librarian, Mary Cayou, and Custodian of Funds Evaline George.

The Bismarck high school formed a temporary organization early last year and has worked steadily and consistently since to gain the goal of Junior membership. It has produced very creditably James Montgomery's "Nothing But the Truth" and "Come Out of the Kitchen" by A. E. Thomas. The Bismarck chapter is unique in that it specifies that a member of Junior Playmakers may not be a member of the debating team also, and to participate in any extra-curricular activity a pupil's work must be of passing grade in every subject and his average not below 80. The Bismarck chapter has laid the solid foundation which can lead only to work of a superior standard. An additional factor which predicts success for this particular group is that it not only has the support of its superintendent, but of the whole school as well.

All Junior Playmaker groups are granted purely on the basis of dramatic merit. There are no limits because of size or rank of school. All Junior Playmaker chapters are members of a state-wide organization, the chapter of which is the Dakota Playmaker organization at the university. They are guided and helped by the mother chapter. Some of the advantages they offer are: Opportunity for the development of dramatic talent; for the production and appreciation of the plays; for a comparison of the standard of high school dramatics in one school with that of another and with that of the university and an opportunity to keep in close touch with dramatic activities and standards in general.

MANY ATTEND LAST RITES FOR MRS. J. C. TAYLOR

Funeral services for Mrs. John C. Taylor, of Steele, who passed away early Saturday morning in a local hospital, were held from the family residence, yesterday afternoon. Rev. D. T. Ford, an old family friend, conducted a most beautiful and impressive funeral ceremony. Ferris Kepler of Dawson rendered several beautiful vocal selections during the services.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. One piece especially, a broken wheel, presented by the American Legion Post No. 14 of which Mrs. Taylor had three sons as members, was most beautiful.

The Masons, Legion Auxiliary and Knights of Pythias attended the funeral in a body and all business houses of Steele were closed during the afternoon out of respect to the departed and family. Several relatives from the West arrived for the funeral and Miss Alice Luke and Miss Alma Ziezenhager, nurses from the Bismarck Hospital attended the funeral.

Mrs. Taylor's death is felt heavily by the residents of Steele and Kidder county as she had resided in local county since her marriage and was beloved and respected by all who had learned to know her. Mr. Taylor is at present interested in banking and the real estate business of Steele. Interment took place in the Woodlawn cemetery.

Mrs. MacGilvery Succumbs After An Operation

Mrs. Amy Jane MacGilvery, 48 years old, of Enderlin, a former resident of Bismarck, died in a local hospital after an operation, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. MacGilvery was who was reared in Covington, Kentucky, is survived by her husband, V. A. MacGilvery, who is engaged in the newspaper business in Enderlin, and one son, five years old. Two sisters reside in Kentucky.

Mrs. MacGilvery was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church and funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Burns. The last rites will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Perry Undertaking parlors. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Glycerine Mixture Prevents Appendicitis

"CASCARETS" 10c IF SICK, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

"They Work While You Sleep." When you feel sick, dizzy, upset, when your head is dull or aching, or your stomach is sour or gassy, just take one or two pleasant "Cascarets" to relieve constipation and biliousness. No griping—nicest cathartic. Laxative on earth for Men, Women and Children. 10c boxes, also 25c and 50c sizes—any drug store.

REHEARSALS PROGRESSING FOR BIG SHOW

"Over the Hill," to be presented at the city auditorium next Monday, February 4, will begin promptly at 8:15 p. m. There will be a matinee at 4 p. m. Rehearsals are progressing rapidly under the direction of J. M. Golden.

The story of the play, which was founded on Will Carleton's famous poem, "Over the Hill to the Poorhouse," is one that appeals to all classes. There is nothing finer than the story told in this play. The mother scene especially is described as beautiful.

The comedy is all clean and wholesome, the kind that you can laugh at and not be ashamed of your laughing. In addition to the play, a high class vaudeville stunts will be introduced between the acts. One of the most amusing and entertaining acts will be "The Crazy Kids," a laughable school-day act in which 10 singing and dancing children will take part. Another feature will be a juvenile minstrel show with 11 rising singers and comedians.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL
Friendship, in its most beautiful form, is brought to the screen with telling effect in the William Fox picture from the story of Ben Ames Williams, called "Not A Drum Was Heard," which opens at the Capitol theater tomorrow for the first time. Charles Jones has the leading role and Betty Bouton plays the part of the western girl he loves.

Perhaps the best description of the theme lies in the episode which finds themselves in love with the same girl. The men are "partners," not partners. She tells the loser first, explaining that the other man is dependable—steady.

"Is there any other little thing about it," he asks.
"I love him," replies the girl.
"Keno," says the rider, rolling a cigarette. And gives her up.
Aside from this kind of sentiment, the picture is a roaring tale of the glorious west, with gunplay and faro aplenty. Jones is at his best and has the support of a capable cast.

THE ELTINGE
How an American engineer masquerading as an Oriental is mistaken through a strange case of resemblance to a Chinese overlord and placed in the powerful position of the mandarin will be dramatically unfolded in the screen version of "Thundergate" at the Eltinge Theatre Friday and Saturday.

The plot reaches a highly dramatic pitch when the pretty slave-bridge of the real Lord of Thundergate is brought before him and he learns that she is a white girl who has been seduced by the Chinese. He finds, however, a happy way of solving these problems.

Owen Moore plays the role of the masquerading engineer, while Virginia Brown Faire is to be seen as the slave wife. Tully Marshall, Sylvia Breamer and Robert McKim are also in the cast.

Bismarck Boys

At the Pioneer Council last week Chief Ben Jacobson presented Mr. Spencer Boise who in a very interesting way explained to the boys what to look for in music. Messrs. Hoskins and Meyer very kindly loaned the boys a victrola with which Mr. Boise explained his various selections from the masters.

In the Pioneer basketball league Carl Kositzky's men demonstrated their ability as basket getters over Carl Martin's team by the score of six to four. Frances Nusselle's crew won a hard fought game from Ben Jacobson by the narrow margin of 9 to eight. Jack Monaghan's team won from Harold Cordner two to none. Next Saturday morning Carl Kositzky and Frances Nusselle will play off for the January championship while Ben Jacobson and Carl Martin play for third place. The February teams will be selected next Saturday boys wishing to play on a team should be at the High School Gymnasium at 10:30 o'clock.

In the Young Comers League Merrill Engle's team defeated Bob Burke's team 3 to 0. Charlie Whitley's team scored five points and held Bill Crewe's men scoreless. The new league teams will be selected Saturday morning. The Young Comers class is for boys between the ages of nine and twelve years, any boy is entitled to join this class if he is of the young comers age.

Cured His Rupture

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Fullen, Carpenter, 4474 Marceline Avenue, Manassas, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured; you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

RIOT MARKS ASSEMBLY OF JAPANESE DIET

Railroad Wreck in Which Opposition Members Were Hurt Precipitates It

Tokio, Jan. 31.—(By the A. P.)—The Imperial Diet was dissolved today following scenes of the greatest disorder in which water flasks were thrown and fists used. The disturbance resulted from attempts of the opposition to interpellate the government regarding the attempted wrecking of a train at Nagoya carrying opposition leaders to Tokio.

The turbulent scenes which occurred in the lower house made further business impossible. The outburst came shortly after the representatives had taken their seats upon the resumption of the diet session.

Interpellating the government in connection with the train wreck in which three prominent oppositions suffered injury although the locomotive of the train was damaged, the foes of Premier Kiyoura and his newly installed cabinet demanded that the premier reply personally. Kiyoura, however, refused to rise. Great disorder immediately ensued. The legislators used water containers as missiles and several engaged in fist combat. Hostilities continued until the speaker of the house hastily declared a temporary adjournment which was followed by dissolution of the diet.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?
The man who says Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is engaged in an effort to cut down the rich man's tax should read an article in The Saturday Evening Post by Roger Babson, noted student of business, who heads it: "Taxes are Paid by the Untaxed."

Mr. Babson points out that 25 years ago railroad, street railroad and water-power securities, the big issues of the time, sold to net the investor a rate of interest of about 4.75 per cent. The Federal income tax was enacted. It jumped. Purchase of the same bonds at an apparent net rate of 4.75 per cent ceased, because the income taxes lowered the net rate to the investor to such an extent that he got but 4 or 5 per cent. Bond buyers quit buying. This forced the interest rates up, in turn this increased the expenses of railroads, street railways, all industrial life. The interest rate being a part of the expenses of such a business, the extra cost was passed on to the ultimate consumer.

Buyers turned to tax-exempt securities, for even at a lower rate of interest they could get a higher net return. A few weeks ago a great issue of farm loan bonds, exempt from taxes, was issued. The net rate was 4.75 per cent, or about the same as obtained in industrial issues before the extra taxes were added. Many municipal issues in the east now sell at a 4.50 per cent rate of interest, whereas before the income tax went into effect they sold on a 4 per cent basis. The extra interest in this instance is directly met by the taxpayer.

A few weeks ago, Mr. Babson said, a manufacturer pointed out that after years of effort his company, making an automobile accessory, found a way to cheapen production costs materially. Naturally, Babson suggested the price would be reduced. He was informed the price would remain the same, the surtaxes would swallow up the whole saving. In this case the auto owner paid the increased tax.

Babson was examining the books of a large hotel. A room that rented for $4 before surtaxes went into effect now rented for $5.50. The hotel owner replied 50 cents was added for increased wages and one dollar for income tax and surtaxes.

An example of the cumulative effect of taxation is given by him as follows:

"The income tax that the farmer pays is added to the price of wheat; the income tax that the miller pays is added to the price of flour; the income tax that the baker pays is added to the price of bread; and the income tax that the storekeeper pays is added to the price of the individual loaf which you buy. Hence, when you buy a loaf of bread the tax of four groups of people is added and a profit on all these groups is added four times in addition. Get me? We not only pay the four taxes for these four groups but we pay a profit of, say, 20 per cent on each of the four sets of taxes."

Money spent on taxes, is largely nonproductive, he points out. The government does not use a large part of its taxes to pay cutters of stone and hewers of wood, who produce wealth, but rather bookkeepers, accountants, detectives and investigators. They are useful but they are not creating and spreading wealth as are producers.

It at first seems wrong to pass the tax entirely on to the ultimate consumer, says Mr. Babson, but adds that it is a fact that interest rates, prices and wages ultimately adjust themselves so that all taxes, with the possible exception of inheritance taxes, are paid by the final purchaser of goods.

Most men, he concludes, are willing to pay a fair share of tax. But when it becomes a burden on industry it is passed on. He concludes that the Mellon tax bill reducing taxes ought to bring about a reduction in prices in the nation. He summarizes this conclusion as follows:

"The final retail sales each year for the United States are estimated at $300,000,000. It is now proposed to reduce the direct-tax bill by more than $300,000,000. This reduction is 1 per cent of the final sales. There are four turnovers before the final sale is consummated. If these turnovers were all at the same valuation it would at once become evident that this proposal would enable a 5 per cent reduction in general prices. Of course, in practice the values of the turnovers are excessively greater; or, to put it in another way, are excessively less as we approach the source. Therefore, it would not be fair to multiply the 1 per cent by five in arriving at the total figure. On the other hand, certain other factors come in which more than compensate for the reduction in valuation, and I believe that an estimate of 5 per cent is not unreasonable. When this 5 per cent in the price level is added to the direct saving in tax and the saving in the tax which the other fellow passes along, we have a final summary indicating somewhat as follows:

"That the tax-revision plan recommended by Secretary Mellon should save men getting incomes of from $2500 to $3500 per year a total of from $200 to $300 per year."

A complete reading of Mr. Babson's article is recommended. He is logical and has a habit of presenting with blunt emphasis real facts. He sticks to the main argument much as does Secretary Mellon. The man who is voting for things which his community can get along without, who is voting for elaboration of governmental services which are unnecessary — he is going to be taxed for it whether he believes he is or not.

ABOUT WEATHER
Beginning about the time of the birth of Christ, the weather had very wet weather for several centuries. Then came a period that lasted 600 or 700 years. Weather became drier and longer cycles. At present it looks as if at least the middle latitudes of our Northern Hemisphere are slowly passing out of a dry period that has prevailed for the past

Much of our weather originates somewhere in the Far North. So weather observations up there will be the most valuable feature of the coming airplane and dirigible flights over the north pole.

BITING THE HAND THAT FEEDS HIM
Percy Trubshaw, editor of the Valley City Times-Record, reprints and commends an editorial in The Bismarck Tribune on the closing of the Russell-Miller mills. Then, lest the sting which Mr. Trubshaw feels, prove too strong he seeks relief by casting anathema on The Tribune as responsible for the Frazier regime and the state industrial program. Mr. Trubshaw's effrontery is hardly less pronounced than the asininity of his statements.

For it was Mr. Trubshaw who in the legislature with a great hurrah voted to provide the bonds that made it possible for the Grand Forks mill to expand and put his Russell-Miller mill out of business in Valley City. And The Tribune finds its position in the past of "No Compromise With State Socialism" growing stronger every day. It has nothing to apologize for. We requote for the information of the erudite Mr. Trubshaw an editorial in The Tribune on February 15, 1921:

"There are some people who will say that we should give the industrial program a thorough try-out. We recommend to them an earnest study of the report of the audit company on North Dakota industries. The Tribune insists that we have tried it out and if that report has missed the mark and the present financial and political impasse teaches us no lesson we are blind bourgeois. When a state changing administrations every two years attempts to go into business for profit, disaster is just around the corner. We have tried it out rather extensively and expensively now—there should be no room in the independent program for any plank that even suggests going any farther with the socialist scheme."

The Tribune has never deviated from this stand and challenges the "compromising" Percy to show otherwise from the editorial stand expressed in these columns.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO RUTH ELLINGTON

I am beginning to think, Ruth, that those pearls will finally prove the tragedy of my life. I have never worn them, never had anything to do with them that something has not happened to make me annoyed or unhappy. Even the day of my wedding, Jack and I had a little quarrel that I have never told anyone about, not even mentioned to anyone but you. Some day I may tell you about it. I know that you thought you were doing everything for the best and I will never cease to be grateful for all you have done for me, but—why, why did you go so late in the afternoon to look into my wall safe? You might know that was the time Jack would be home early. Now I'll just have to have another quarrel with him about you. Jack has been very nasty about our friendship ever since Harry deserted you. He seemed to think that in some way you were to blame for it all. I tried to make him understand that you would hardly be to blame for Harry's running away with another woman, at least that you wouldn't know about it. But he took that high and mighty air that most men have when one of their sex goes wrong. It is always search for the woman and, you happening to be the woman nearest Harry, Jack was altogether too lazy to pursue his search any further. He has been very suspicious ever since you opened the safe. He is always wondering where you get the money. He has questioned me very closely until I finally told him that if I knew—and I would not acknowledge that I did—I would not tell him. He said to me, "Leslie, I insist that you tell me all you know about Ruth's affairs. I am not sure that she is the kind of woman with whom I wish my wife to associate."

As you can imagine, that made me so red and so turned on him with "John Alden Prescott, I insist that you tell me all that you know about Sydney Carton's affairs. When you explain all of your knowledge of the percentage of little Jack I will tell you all I know about Ruth, for then I will know whether Sydney Carton is the kind of man that I want to be my husband's best friend. I think Jack came very near knocking me down. He turned on his heel quickly and without saying a word went out slamming the door so hard that I felt it like a blow and little Jack woke up all yelled. I was rather glad of that, however. I hope John heard it. My husband hardly spoke to me for a week, but there is one good thing about marriage. Ruth, Percy has you noticed it when you were living with Harry. Husband and wife cannot be under the same roof in the intimacy of everyday life without open enemies. There must be at least an armed truce or a real repatriation.

INCOME TAX

Following is one of a series of articles covering provisions of the state income tax law prepared by the state tax department.

No. 3—Exemptions
The amended state income tax law of 1923 provides that every single person not the head of a family is entitled to an exemption of $1000. Married persons are permitted an exemption of $2000. Only one exemption is allowed the husband and wife, but if separate returns are filed they may divide the exemption between them.

The head of a family is entitled to the same exemption as a married person. To be classed as the head of a family a taxpayer must actually support one or more persons in his or her household. By supporting is meant contributing to more than one half of the maintenance of another.

All persons, whether single or married, of the head of a family are entitled to a further exemption of $200 for each person (minor child, husband and wife) under the age of 18 years or infirmable of age support who is dependent upon them. Exemptions may be claimed for children over the age of 18 and under the age of 21 years who are dependent upon the taxpayer for support and are attending educational institutions. A fiduciary is required to report the amount of income of an estate or trust which has been distributed to the various beneficiaries during the income year. The individual beneficiaries are required to report such income in their individual returns. In case the net income of an estate or trust has not been distributed or has been distributed only in part, the fiduciary is entitled to an exemption of $1000. The undistributed income of the estate or trust is taxed to the fiduciary. In the case of a fiduciary acting for an incompetent individual, the fiduciary receives the same exemption as such individual. In the case of a return for a person who has died during the income year it is permissible to take the full exemption which would have been allowed him on the date of his death had that been the last day in the year. The status of the last day of the income year determines the exemption. A person who marries on December 31st is entitled to the exemption of a married person for the entire year. The taxpayer is entitled to deduct the exemption for husband, wife or other dependent who has died during the income year. Corporations are taxable on their entire net income. No exemption is allowed a corporation.

OUR APPRECIATION

The Press editor appreciated keenly the endorsement for Governor given him by the Convention held here on Wednesday. We do not know just what we can say to best express our appreciation, but if we fail to properly express it in words we nevertheless have it in our heart and mind. The men and women who comprised this Convention are of the rank and file of the Nonpartisan League, and of our best citizenry. With a very few exceptions, we have known all of them for years and they have known us and have known our life, public activities and work, and, under the circumstances, we ask for no higher compliment than to have these men and women, God's noblemen and noblesse, endorse us for the highest office of our state.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Mother Goose," said the Riddle Lady next day when the crowd had gathered in Riddle Town to hear the next riddle. "I don't want you to get offended at my riddle today. Will you please not?" "Is it about me?" asked Mother Goose in surprise. "Not exactly," laughed the Riddle Lady, and then saying "Excuse me," to everybody she whispered something in Mother Goose's ear. Then Mother Goose laughed, and the Riddle Lady laughed, and they both laughed.

"Go right ahead," declared Mother Goose, smiling at Nancy. "Don't mind me." "Now for the riddle," said the Riddle Lady. "I suppose you are all tired waiting: 'Get out of my way, get out of my way.' Does everyone know that it's sweeping day? I rush and I run and I spread out my skirt. And shoo from my feet every wee scrap of dirt. 'I live in the corner beside the back door. I never sit down. I just stand on the floor. When I spy muddy footprints, or breadcrumbs, or dust, Then out I go reaching—just as soon as I can—fashioned—just as simply as possible. And I'm quite a home body—but once in a while They take me and dress me in old ragged clothes. And leave me outside just to stare away crows. 'Sometimes in the winter when snow's lying deep, I clear away paths, and I sweep and I sweep. And the boys make a snow man, then shreking with fun, They seize me and give me to him for a gun. 'Old Mother Goose rides me up to the sky. And when we come back in the sweet bye and bye, I'm first to go. I do it to have sweeping day. It's dreadful how dirt gathers when one's away. 'But I don't like it outdoors. I much prefer in. To all of the places that I've ever to sweep is my hobby. I love a clean floor. Then slip to my corner beside the back door."

"It's a broom," said Nancy quickly. "I had to be quick, for nearly all the Riddle Lady's riddles had proved to be wrong and she was shouting it out at the top of their lungs. 'Right!' said the Riddle Lady. And the prize is a ride with Mother

The position taken by Senator Ralph Ingerson, one of the state leaders of the Nonpartisan League, that the league should abandon its former policy of opposing the Democratic and Republican party machinery, and should assume its true position as a separate party, holding its own primary, is one which should be commended by friends and foes of the league alike. The Nonpartisan League and the issues which it has created have determined the fate of cleavage in North Dakota politics for the last eight years. The issues which the league has brought to the front are those that National party time-honoredly become entirely irrelevant in the state elections. The League has been a separate political party in fact and should be so recognized in the state election machinery. The present situation is unjust to both the league and their opponents. It should be pointed out however, that the very change which Senator Ingerson demands would be brought about for the practical purpose, by the adoption of the Nonparty election laws which were passed at the last session of the state legislature, and which are to be voted on by popular referendum. If these laws are approved by the people the practical result will be the establishment of a logical division line in state politics, and as the factor which it is today, that line will be drawn on the Nonpartisan, and independent issue. Senator Ingerson and those league who agree with him can thus secure the result they desire, by supporting their election laws. Grand Forks Herald.

"You write singularly pure English, in spite of what seems to me a marked individuality of style, and—ah—your apparent delight in slang!" Her voice was quite even, although her eyes had glowed and sparkled and flitted at his poetic phantasma of her past (as what woman's would not?). "I find a rather painful effort to be—what do you call it? highbrow?—in some of your writers."
"The youngsters. I went through that phase. We all do. But we emerge. I mean, of course, when we have anything to express. Metaphysical verbosity is a friendly refuge. But as a rule fears and hard knocks drive us to directness of expression. . . . But poets must begin young. And New York is not exactly a hot-bed of romance."
"Do you think that romance is impossible in New York?" she asked irresistibly.
"I—oh—well, what is romance? Of course, it is quite possible to fall in love in New York—although anything but the ideal setting. But romance!"
"Surely the sense of mystery between a man and woman irresistibly attracted may be as provocative in a great city as in a feudal castle surrounded by an ancient forest—or on one of my Dolomite lakes. Is it not that which constitutes romance—the breathless trembling on the verge of the unexplored—that isolates two human beings as authentically—I am picking up your vocabulary—as if they were alone on a star in space? Is it not possible to dream here in New York?—and surely dreams play their part in romance." Her fingertips, moving delicately on the surface of her lap, had a curious suggestion of playing with fire.
"One needs leisure for dreams." He stood up suddenly and leaned against the mantelpiece. The atmosphere had become electric. "A good thing, too—as far as some of us are concerned. The last thing for a columnist to indulge in is dreams. Fine hash he'd have for his readers next morning!"
"Do you mean to say that none of you clever young men fall in love?"
"Every day in the week, some of them. They even marry—and tell fatuous yarns about their babies. No doubt some of them have even gloomed through brief periods of unreciprocated passion. But they don't look very romantic to me."
"Romance is impossible without imagination, I should think. Aching for what you cannot have or failing in love reciprocally with a charming girl is hardly romance. That is a gift—like the spark that goes to the making of art."
"Are you romantic?" he asked harshly. "You look as if born to inspire romance—dreams—like a beautiful statue or painting—but mysterious as you make yourself—and, I believe, are in essence—I should never have associated you with the romantic temperament. Your eyes—as they too often are—Oh, no!"
"It is true that I have never had a romance."
"You married—and very young."
"Oh, what is young love! The urge of the race. A blaze that ends in babies or ashes. Romance!"
"You have—other men have loved you?"
"European men—the type my lot was cast with—may be romantic in their extreme youth—but have never been attracted by men in that stage of development, so I may only suppose—but when a man has learned to adjust passion to technique there is not much romance left in him."
"Are you waiting for your romance, then? Have you come to this more primitive civilization to find it?"
She raised her head and looked him full in the eyes. "No, I did not believe in the possibility then. Now I have a high-ball!"
"Certainly!"
He took his drink on the other side of the room. It was several minutes before he returned to the hearth. Then he asked without looking at her: "How do you expect to find romance if you shut yourself up?"
"I wanted nothing less. As little as I wanted it to be known that I was here at all."
"That damnable mystery! Who are you?"
"Nothing that you have imagined."

The endorsement came as a surprise, for although we have heretofore been mentioned for Governor, we did not know that our own home people were looking toward our nomination and election. And while we are not saying that we are a candidate for Governor, we assure our good friends that, should we ever come to serve the people of North Dakota as Governor, we would be the very best kind of Governor that we would know how to be and permit nothing to stand between us and our whole duty to all the people.

YANK HOCKEY TEAM GAINS

Reaches Semi-Finals in Olympic Games Play

Chamonix, France, Jan. 31.—(By the A. P.)—The American Olympic team, playing under wraps after the first period, defeated England today, 5 to 0, clinching first place in its end of the draw and reaching the semi-finals. The Yanks tomorrow play the second team in the upper half, probably Sweden.

Austria took first place in the fancy skating couples. Finland was second and France third.

N. W. Niles and Mrs. T. W. Blanchard of Boston, representing the United States, were sixth.

RINK PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Band Music and Stunts Saturday Night at Rink

Stunts are being planned at the municipal skating rink Saturday night by the winter sports committee of the Association of Commerce.

It is called "a curtain raiser to an ice carnival" by J. J. MacLeod, who is working out details. The program begins sharp at 8 p. m. It is planned to have a real winter carnival, costumes in everything.

The rink will be available tonight unless it is so warm this afternoon as to make the ice poor. Additional electric lights are being installed.

Later on, according to Mr. MacLeod, it is planned to have a real winter carnival, costumes in everything.

JOE JACKSON NEVER SAW HIS OWN CONTRACT

Wilwaukee, Jan. 31.—Although he signed a contract calling for $8,000 a year for three years with the Chicago club of the American League, Joe Jackson, who is suing that organization for $18,500 in circuit court here, testified that he never received a copy of the contract.

Jackson was on the stand virtually the entire day, under direct and cross examination, and told of the manner in which he signed a three year contract in 1920, under which he alleges the sum for which he brought suit is due him. The contract, he testified, was said not to contain the "ten day clause."

During today's trial, Jackson told of a conversation he had with Harry Graham, secretary of the club, relative to the $5,000 which he received from Pitcher Lefty Williams, part of the money which was paid Williams by a group of gamblers for throwing the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati.

Jackson asked the secretary what he should do with the money and testified he was told "as long as that bunch of bums used your name, you did the only sensible thing in keeping it." Jackson said he told the secretary if he had "not been so mean" to him on previous occasions, he would have told him all about the deal.

Extra Weight Is Certain to Help Star Twirler

By NEA Service

Cincinnati, Jan. 31.—Pete Donahue of the Cincinnati Reds is one of the game's greatest pitchers. His only failing is lack of strength, for Pete is a rather frail chap. He is constantly trying to remedy his one failing.

When Donahue reported to the Reds, direct from a Texas college, the experts said he would never do, wasn't strong enough to stand the big league strain.

It didn't take Donahue long to prove that he was a real pitcher, even if he wasn't an iron man physically. Realizing that Donahue would be of much more value to the Reds with 10 or 15 pounds added to his frame he is taking life easy on the coast at the expense of the Cincinnati club, so the story goes.

Manager Moran has received word from Donahue that the balmy climate of California and the life of a retired millionaire is putting on many extra pounds of weight, so much desired.

A. C. WINS OVER MORNINGSIDE

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 31.—Coming from behind in the last ten minutes of play, North Dakota Agricultural college basketball team defeated Morningside college of Sioux City, 24 to 23.

The score indicates the intensity of the game. With the score 10 to 9 at the end of the first half, the visiting quint plodded right along in the second period until they had overcome the lead and then held Morningside on even terms.

Tris Speaker is confident that Rube Lutzke will be a much improved ball player, the coming season. Lutzke lacked only confidence in his real ability last year, according to the Cleveland leader.

THREE HEROES OF GREATEST WORLD SERIES GAMES EVER PLAYED PASS FROM SCENES OF STAR FEATS

ELMER SMITH
BY BILLY EVANS

Heroes are made and fade quickly in baseball.

Harken back to the world series of 1920 for proof.

The fifth game of that series between Brooklyn and Cleveland was the most remarkable contest I have ever seen. It will go down in baseball history as one of the most unusual games ever played.

Cleveland won the game, 8 to 1. The score would make it seem that it lacked thrills, yet the contrary was true. It was a contest that fairly bristled with brilliant plays and record-breaking feats.

The three heroes of that game were Cleveland players. Pitcher Jim Bagby, Outfielder Elmer Smith and Second Baseman Bill Wambegans.

Pitcher Jim Bagby won that game by the lopsided score of 8 to 1, despite the fact that Brooklyn made 13 hits, one more than Cleveland. In reality, Bagby deserved a shutout, which would have been a fitting climax to a freak game.

Deserved A Shutout

Brooklyn's lone run of the game came with two down in the ninth. A dinky infield grounder that should have been an easy out took a bad bound at the last moment, causing

'Hains Can Field; Hendricks Can Hit

Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees is up against a rather peculiar position relative to his outfield material. Here it is:

In Hinkie Haines, former Penn State College football and baseball star, Huggins has a great prospect. Haines is a great outfielder right now. He can go as far as any man in either major league and get a fly ball in the most approved fashion. He has a mighty good arm, and on the bases is as fast as a breeze. The only trouble with Haines is getting on the bases. The old saying is you can't steal first base. While Haines is not that weak a batsman, he has yet to definitely prove that he can consistently hit major league pitching.

On the other hand in Hendricks, who by the way was a former Vanderbilt University star athlete, Huggins has one of the greatest natural hitters to break into the major leagues in years. A big husky left-hander, Hendricks, although used only as a pinch hitter, has already won the respect of the American League hurlers. But after you mention hitting ability, you must pass on Hendricks.

As a fielder Hendricks at present is simply impossible. Any time a fly ball is hit in his direction he is expressed for his safety. Huggins, however, has great hopes for Hendricks. Harry Heilmann, when he joined Detroit, was no great shucks as a fielder, now few in the American League has a thing on him.

If Hendricks could field like Haines, Huggins would have two of the great outfielders in the country.

Billy Evans Says

"There is a fellow with pitching poise. He has everything, speed curves and a change of pace. When you start hitting him he always has something in reserve, something different to stop your batting rally. He is one of the greatest stylists I have ever battled against. I have found certain pitchers more difficult for me to hit, but Jones shapes up as a pitcher who looks the part all over."

Ty Cobb was talking. The Detroit club was sitting on the bench discussing pitchers and watching Sam

DEMPSEY LANDS A BIG FISH!

What! Another Firpo? Don't Be Funny, the Champion, We'll Have You Know, Is a Real Angler

You see here the great and only Jack Dempsey (prolonged applause led by the allied ship building crafts of the world) as he appeared a few minutes after gaining the decision over a sail fish in the ocean just off Miami beach.

We are assured that the sea monster gave the heavyweight champion a terrible fight before succumbing, finally, to a volley of rights and lefts to the body which sent Gibbons staggering against the ropes under the blazing Montana sun.

Now what the heck are we writing about! Shush! Dempsey just went fishing down in Florida and caught a fish and here's the darn thing.

Yankees' pitching staff. Penneck, more than any other man on the Yankees, made possible our recent world series victory over the Giants. He rounded out our ball club. His victory, after the Giants had trimmed us game after game, was the turning point in the series. Some compliment from Babe Ruth.

NEW HURDLE RECORD MADE

New York, Jan. 31.—Establishment of a new world's indoor record at 6 3-5 seconds for the 60-yard high hurdles by Carl Anderson of the Illinois Athletic Club in capturing this event at the Milrose track and field carnival last night in Madison Square Garden was announced today by A. A. U. officials after a recheck of performances.

AMATEURS WON'T GO OVER

Few, if any, American amateurs will cross the sea to play in the British amateur championship this year. Last fall a full team went over to compete in the title event and for the team trophy. Max Marston, new national champion, did plan to go over, but will probably change his mind. Marston is now recovering from an operation.

RICKEY GETS COLLEGIANS

Uteritz, star quarterback of the University of Michigan football team, is as good a performer on the diamond as on the gridiron. It is said that he intends taking a whirl at major league ball. It is also hinted that Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals already has him tied up.

GERMANS WANT TO EMIGRATE TO AMERICA

With Quota Filled, They Are Now Turning Eyes to Other Countries

Hamburg, Jan. 31.—Canada, South America and Russia are the three countries toward which prospective German emigrants are turning their eyes since the United States quota became exhausted.

Steamship offices are today besieged by disappointed Germans who had planned to go to America. Many of them had sold their farm utensils, their household goods and even their personal effects to raise money for the trip. It is impossible for them to wait in Germany till the new American quota opens next July, and most of them are determined to go somewhere.

"We can't be worse off than we are in Germany," is the universal reply they make when immigration officials caution them it is not wise to jump into some unknown land without funds and with no friends to look after them.

Many Germans seem obsessed at the present time by the idea that they must leave the fatherland. This is especially true of young men, who insist they can see no future for themselves at home, and it applies particularly to clerks, teachers, stenographers, government employees and other "white-collar" workers. Such persons are not encouraged to emigrate, but household servants and farm laborers are.

Emigration to Russia is not encouraged. A few German scouts are going to that country to look over the situation with a view to locating colonies of farmers, especially in Siberia, but the enthusiasm for the movement. Many Germans who were colonized in Russia before the war have returned home and told of the way they were treated when their land was taken and their crops confiscated. The newspapers have published this information, and it has dampened the enthusiasm for life under a Communist regime.

The government maintains a special office to deal with those who would leave the country. It is provided over by widely traveled officials who can give advice about all parts of the world. These men are so brutally frank in their statements about countries toward which visionary emigrants wish to go that the United States, with its "State Warning Office."

Professional men for the most part have their eyes on the United States. One of the best known German medical journals recently published an article by a physician who had passed the examination to practice in America. The writer said openings were far more numerous in the United States than in South America, and explained that Americans employed physicians more than do Germans. But he warned physicians not to go to the United States without some money and without good friends to assist them until they could establish themselves.

CHAMPIONLESS FIELD

There hasn't been an out-and-out champion in the Ohio football conference for five successive years. Just that often the title at the end of the season has wound up in a deadlock with two or more teams having an equal claim. The conference has a membership of 20 and is, of course, too unwieldy.

EDITH A LONG DRIVER

Edith Cummings of Chicago, new woman's golf champion of America, is one of the longest woman drivers in the game. Few Americans can hit a golf ball as far as the slim Chicagoan, and the Misses Wether and Leitch of England have to step to keep up with her, long as they are off the tee.

GOOZEMAN STARS

Ernie Goetzman, only Spaniard in the professional prize ring, continues to make a noise like a real star. Goetzman all but knocked out Joe Burman some weeks ago, and more recently he gave George Hatch of St. Louis an artistic trimming.

RUTH PRAISES PENNOCK

"I regard Herbie Pennock as the best southpaw in the American League," says Babe Ruth. "I am glad I am playing on the same club with him. When Miller Huggins secured him from the Red Sox he made the

U.S. MAY SELL 12 BIG SHIPS

Deal Considered at Conference in Washington

Washington, Jan. 31.—Purchase of 10 shipping board vessels operated to the Orient by the Pacific Mail Steamship company of San Francisco and the Admiral Oriental Line of Seattle, was the subject of a conference between R. Stanley Dollar of the Admiral line and officials of the emergency fleet corporation. The Dollar interests have been negotiating for the ships for several months.

"We will close this deal now or drop it," said Mr. Dollar, adding that he hoped to complete his conference here and to close the sale before February 7 when the Dollar line launch their around-the-world service with the sailing from New York of the steamship president Adams.

Five of the vessels sought by the Dollar interests are operated by the Pacific mail in a fortnightly service to Honolulu, Kobe, Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila. They are the President, Admiral, Wilson, Lincoln and Pierce. The other five, the Presidents Jackson, Jefferson, Grant, Madison and McKinley, are run to the Orient via Victoria, B. C., in a 12 days service by the Admiral Line.

YANK HOCKEY TEAM GAINS

Reaches Semi-Finals in Olympic Games Play

Chamonix, France, Jan. 31.—(By the A. P.) The American Olympic team, playing under wraps after the first period, defeated England today 3-1 in clinching first place in its end of the draw and reaching the semi-finals. The Yanks tomorrow play the second team in the upper half, probably Sweden.

Austria took first place in the hockey skating couple. Finland was second and France third.

W. S. Miller and Mrs. I. W. Blum, chair of the B. O. representing the United States, were sixth.

RINK PROGRAM IS PLANNED

Band Music and Stunts Saturday Night at Rink

Stunts are being planned for the municipal skating rink—Saturday night by the winter sports committee of the Association of Commerce.

It is expected that a curtain raiser to an ice carnival, by J. J. MacLeod, who is working out details. The program begins sharp at 8 p. m. It is planned to have stunts and band music.

The rink will be available tonight unless it is warm this afternoon as to make the ice poorer. Additional electric lights are being installed.

Later on, according to Mr. MacLeod, it is planned to have a real winter carnival, costumes in everything.

JOE JACKSON NEVER SAW HIS OWN CONTRACT

Waukegan, Jan. 31.—Although he signed a contract calling for $8,000 a year for three years with the Chicago club of the American League, Joe Jackson, who is suing that organization for $18,500 in circuit court here, testified that he never received a copy of the contract.

Jackson was on the stand virtually the entire day, under direct and cross examination, and told of the manner in which he signed a three year contract in 1920, under which he alleges the sum for which he brought suit is due him. The contract, he testified, was said not to contain the "ten day clause."

During today's trial, Jackson told of a conversation he had with Harry Grabner, secretary of the club, relative to the $8,000 which he received for pitcher Lefty Williams, part of the money which was paid Williams by a group of gamblers for throwing the 1919 world's series to Cincinnati.

Jackson asked the secretary what he should do with the money, and testified he was told "as long as that bunch of bums used your name, you did it," Jackson said he told the secretary if he had "not been so mean" to him on previous occasions, he would have told him all about the deal.

Extra Weight Is Certain to Help Star Twirler

Cincinnati, Jan. 31.—Pete Donahue of the Cincinnati Reds is one of the game's greatest pitchers. His only failing is lack of strength. For Pete is a rather frail chap. He is constantly trying to remedy his one failing.

When Donahue reported to the Reds, direct from a Texas college, the experts said he would never do, wasn't strong enough to stand the big league strain.

It didn't take Donahue long to prove that he was a real pitcher, even if he wasn't an iron man physically. Realizing that Donahue would be of much more value to the Reds with 10 or 15 pounds added to his frame he is taking life easy on the road at the expense of the Cincinnati club, so the story goes.

Manager Morin has removed word from Donahue that the bulky of a retired millionaire is putting on many extra pounds of weight, so much desired.

A. C. WINS OVER MORNINGSIDE

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 31.—Coming from behind in the last ten minutes of play, North Dakota Agricultural college basketball team defeated Morningside college of Sioux City, 24 to 22.

The score indicates the intensity of the game. With the score 16 to 9 at the end of the first half, the visiting quint pledged right along in the second period until they had overcome the lead and then held Morningside on even terms.

THREE HEROES OF GREATEST WORLD SERIES GAMES EVER PLAYED PASS FROM SCENES OF STAR FEATS

Elmer Smith
Bill Wambegans
Jim Bagby

Heroes are made and forgotten quickly in baseball.

Hacken took to the world series of 1920 for proof.

The fifth game of that series between Brooklyn and Cleveland was the most remarkable contest I have ever seen. It will go down in baseball history as one of the most unusual games ever played.

Cleveland won the game, 5 to 1. The score would make it seem that it lacked thrills, yet the contrary was true. It was a contest that has been bracketed with brilliant plays and record breaking feats.

The three heroes of that game were Cleveland players, Pitcher Jim Bagby, Outfielder Elmer Smith and Second Baseman Bill Wambegans.

Pitcher Jim Bagby won that game by the lopsided score of 5 to 1, despite the fact that Brooklyn made six hits more than Cleveland. In reality, Bagby deserved a shutout, which would have been a fitting climax to a track game.

Deserved A Shutout

Brooklyn's lone run of the game came with two down in the ninth. A dinky infield grounder that should have been an easy out took a bad bound at the last moment, causing

What about these three heroes? Cleveland's popular hero of 1920? Bill Wambegans was traded to Boston as the central figure in the deal that brought George Burns to Cleveland.

Jim Bagby was cast adrift a year ago. Taken on by Pittsburgh for a trial he was given his unconditional release near the close of the season.

Elmer Smith was traded to Boston, later he became a member of the New York Yankees, only recently he was sent to the minors.

The three heroes passed out of the picture as far as Cleveland is concerned.

The career of the baseball star is brief. Heroes are made and fade quickly in the national pastime.

Hains Can Field; Hendricks Can Hit

Manager Miller Huggins of the New York Yankees is up against a rather peculiar position relative to his outfield material. Here it is:

In Hank Hains, former Penn State College football and basketball star, Huggins has a great prospect. Hains is a great outfielder right now. He can go as far as any man in either major league and get a fly ball in the most approved fashion. He has a mighty good arm, and on the bases as fast as a breeze. The only trouble with Hains is getting on the bases. The old saying is you can't steal first base. While Hains is not that weak a batsman he has yet to definitely prove that he can consistently hit major league pitching.

On the other hand in Hendricks, who by the way was a former Vanderbilt University star athlete, Huggins has one of the greatest natural hitters to break into the major leagues in years. A big husky left handed, Hendricks, although used only as a pinch hitter, has already won the respect of the American League hurlers. But after you mention hitting ability, you must pass on Hendricks. As a fielder Hendricks at present is simply impalpable. Any time a fly ball is hit in his direction fears are expressed for his safety. Huggins, however, has great hopes for Hendricks. Harry Heilmann, when he joined Detroit, was no great shakes as a fielder, now few in the American League has a thing on him.

If Hendricks could field like Hains, Huggins would have two of the great outfielders in the country.

HAINS HENDRICKS

Jones warm up. He was scheduled to go against the Tigers that afternoon. It was a nice compliment that Cobb paid him.

A few weeks later Jones certainly made good the praise that Cobb had heaped upon him by pitching a shut out against the Athletics. In the world series between the Giants and the Yankees last year Jones pitched a four-hit classic, despite the fact that he suffered a 1 to 0 defeat. Field bleachers decided the issue.

CHAMPIONLESS FIELD

There hasn't been an out-and-out champion in the Ohio football conference for five successive years. Just that often the title at the end of the season has wound up in a deadlock with two or more eleven having an equal claim. The conference has a membership of 20 and is, of course, too unwieldy.

EDITH A LONG DRIVER

Edith Cummings of Chicago, new woman's golf champion of America, is one of the longest woman drivers in the game. Few Americans can hit a golf ball as far as the slim Chicagoan, and the Misses Wethered and Leitch of England have to step to keep up with her, long as they are off the tee.

GOOSEMAN STARS

Ernie Goetzman, only Spaniard in the professional prize ring, continues to make a noise like a real star. Goetzman all but knocked out Joe Burman some weeks ago, and more recently he gave George Butch of St. Louis an artistic trimming.

RUTH PRAISES PENNOCK

"I regard Herbert Pennock as the best southpaw in the American League," says Babe Ruth. "I am glad I am playing on the same club with him. When Miller Huggins secured him from the Red Sox he made the # Yankees' pitching staff. Pennock, more than any other man on the Yankees, made possible our recent world series victory over the Giants. He rounded out our ball club. His victory, after the Giants had trimmed us game after game, was the turning point in the series. Some edification from Babe Ruth.

NEW HURDLE RECORD MADE

New York, Jan. 31.—Establishment of a new world's indoor record at 6 and 5 seconds for the 60-yard high hurdles by Carl Anderson of the Illinois Athletic Club in capturing this event at the Millrose track and field carnival last night in Madison Square Garden was announced today by A. A. U. officials after a recheck of performances.

AMATEURS WON'T GO OVER

Few, if any, American amateurs will cross the sea to play in the British amateur championship this year. Last fall a full team went over to compete in the title event and for the team trophy. Max Marston, new national champion, did plan to go over, but will probably change his mind. Marston is now recovering from an operation.

GERMANS WANT TO EMIGRATE TO AMERICA

With Quota Filled, They Are Now Turning Eyes to Other Countries

Hamburg, Jan. 31.—Canada, South America and Russia are the three countries toward which prospective German emigrants are turning their eyes since the United States quota became exhausted.

Steamship offices are today besieged by disappointed Germans who are planning to go to America. Many of them had sold their farm utensils, their household goods and even their personal effects to raise money for the trip. It is impossible for them to wait in Germany till the new American quota opens next July, and most of them are determined to go somewhere.

"We can't be worse off than we are in Germany," is the universal reply they make when immigration officials question them. It is not wise to jump into some unknown land without funds and with no friends to look after them.

Many Germans seem obsessed at the present time by the idea that they must leave the fatherland. This is especially true of young men, who insist they can see no future for them at home, and it applies particularly to clerks, teachers, geographers, government employees and other "white-collar" workers. Such persons are not encouraged to emigrate, but household servants and farm laborers are.

Emigration to Russia is not encouraged. A few German scouts are going to that country to look over the situation with a view to locating colonies of farmers, especially in Siberia, but the average German has no such enthusiasm for the movement. Many Germans who were colonized in Russia before the war have returned home and told of the way they were treated when their land was taken and their crops confiscated. The newspapers have published this information, and it has dampened the enthusiasm for life under a Communist regime.

The government maintains a special office to deal with those who would leave the country. It is presided over by widely traveled officials who can give advice about all parts of the world. These men are so brutally frank in their statements about countries toward which visionaries emigrants wish to go that the office has been nicknamed the "State Warning Office."

Professional men for the most part have their eyes on the United States. One of the best known German medical journals recently published an article by a physician who had passed the examination to practice in America. The writer said openings were far more numerous in the United States than in South America, and explained that Americans employed physicians more than Germans. But he warned physicians not to go to the United States without some money and without good friends to assist them until they could establish themselves.

U.S. MAY SELL 12 BIG SHIPS

Deal Considered at Conference in Washington

Washington, Jan. 31.—Purchase of 10 shipping board vessels operated to the Orient by the Pacific Mail Steamship company of San Francisco and the Admiral Oriental line of Seattle, was the subject of a conference between R. Stanley Dollar of the admiral line and officials of the emergency fleet corporation. The Dollar interests have been negotiating for the ships for several months.

"We will close this deal now or drop it," said Mr. Dollar, adding that he hoped to complete his conference here and to close the sale before February 7 when the Dollar line launch their around-the-world service with the sailing from New York of the steamship president Adams.

Five of the vessels sought by the Dollar interests are operated by the Pacific mail in a fortnightly service to Honolulu, Kobe, Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila. They are the President Taft, Cleveland, Wilson, Lincoln and Pierce. The other five, the Presidents Jackson, Jefferson, Grant, Madison and McKinley, are run to the Orient via Victoria, B. C., in a 12-day service by the Admiral Line.

Mothers You Can Prevent Children From Taking Cold

Next Time They Come in Wet and "Sniffling" Rub This Vapor Salve Over Throat and Chest

When children come in from play with wet noses and heads like damp sponges, you feed them this salve for a cold.

But the next time try Vicks. As bedtime rub this penetrating salve well in their chests and throat and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

For the relief of the coughing, the sneezing, the croup, the cold, the sore throat, the hoarse voice, and the watery eyes, Vicks is the best remedy. It is the only vapor salve that goes directly to the air passages, stimulating the mucous membrane, and thus curing the cold.

(At the same time Vicks increases the circulation of the blood through the chest, thus helping to prevent any congested condition of the throat and chest, and thus preventing many colds from getting a start and its use doesn't disturb the child's digestion or cause any sleeplessness.)

FLAX GROWING TO INCREASE

Minneapolis, Jan. 31.—In the midst of a territory now being grown in large measure to flax, Minneapolis has risen to the largest production city of flaxseed oil and meal in the United States, with the possible exception of New York.

Since September 1, 1923, up to the first of the year, more than 5,000,000 bushels of flax were unloaded at the flaxseed mills here, comprising the bulk of the last northwest crop, and from which about 100,000 tons of meal will be manufactured, according to reliable reports.

With University of Minnesota agricultural officials pointing out to northwest farmers the attractiveness of raising flax, with tariff protection of 50 cents a bushel, short haul to market, and consumption twice the production, the flaxseed industry was recognized and portions of the recent wheat lands were turned to flax growing.

CLOSED BANK PETITIONS IN CIRCULATION

Representatives of Depositors Association Are Seeking Signatures

TERMS OF AGREEMENT
Method of Payment to Association Is Set Out in the Agreement

Approximately 50 representatives of the Association of Depositors in Closed Banks of the state of North Dakota are now in the field seeking the 20,000 signatures needed on petitions for initiation of a constitutional amendment providing for a bond issue not exceeding $4,000,000 to be used in reimbursing depositors of closed banks and the 10,000 signatures needed on petitions for a constitutional amendment providing for a bond issue not exceeding $4,000,000 to be used in reimbursing depositors of closed banks.

The agreement, which is between the Association of Depositors in Closed Banks, consisting of William L. Ivers, president, Robert Rotering,

Vice-President, and W. P. Steinmetz, secretary and treasurer, these three being of the board of county commissioners of Slope county, and the petitions of the second part, the depositors, reads as follows:

"Therefore, it is mutually agreed that said party of the first part does hereby agree to pay the party of the second part:

1. Three percent of the amount deposited in cash payable immediately.

2. One dollar in cash, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and ten per cent of the amount collected on the principal sum deposited and in addition all interest collected, and the said party of the first part hereby assigns to the party of the second part and their assigns from the amount allowed by the Guaranty Fund Commission to the party of the first part the amount herein agreed to be paid by the party of the first part to the party of the second part and hereby authorizes and directs the Guaranty Fund Commission to pay said amount to the party of the second part or their assigns. The said party of the second part agrees to use said money for whatever purpose it may deem best in order to secure the passage of the Constitutional Amendment and the Initiated Law providing for a more adequate Guaranty Fund and particularly in the bringing of information to the people of the state as to the merits of the proposed bond issue in the sum of four million dollars to pay the depositors of closed banks, and to cover newspaper advertising, preparation and printing of the petitions, attorney fees, court costs, and any other expense incidental to the carrying on of the campaign, to secure the passage of said measures, and the judgment of the party of the second part is to be conclusive as to expenditures.

"The party of the first part is to have no personal liability of any kind whatsoever except for the payment herein agreed upon.

"The party of the second part reserves the right to assign this agreement.

"The Association of Depositors in Closed Banks of the State of North Dakota is not responsible for any agreement or promise other than written or printed on the face of this agreement and this agreement is subject to approval of the attorney for the party of the second party.

LIST PRIZES FOR BUTTER

North Dakota Dairymen's Association Holds Contest

The North Dakota Dairymen's Association offers liberal prizes for butter made on North Dakota farms and exhibited at the North Dakota Dairymen's Convention at Grand Forks, it is announced by W. F. Reynolds, secretary. Dairy butter properly made is selling at a premium in many of our cities and villages, for that reason a considerable number of farms are making dairy butter of good quality.

The annual meeting of the association will be held at Grand Forks on March 4, 1924. Fifty dollars will be prorated for all dairy butter scoring 87 and above. Fifty dollars will be prorated for all creamery butter of 88 score or above. The butter will then be sold and the proceeds returned to the exhibitor unless they request other disposition.

The butter should be sent to Secretary W. F. Reynolds, care of Bridgman-Russell Company, Grand Forks and should reach there not later than March 2, where it will be held in cold storage until judged. Name and address of the sender should be marked plainly on each entry.

INGERSON PLAN, HELD UNLIKELY OF ADOPTION

State Convention of League Expected to Stick to Republican Party

OTHER POLITICAL TALK

Discussion of the proposed Ingerson plan of making a third party out of the Nonpartisan League is now in progress among Nonpartisans in the state. The question promises to be the biggest one before the early stages of the league state convention, which meets here at 11 a. m. February 6. The general trend of opinion is that the league will not remain out of the Republican column in the June primaries.

Senator Ingerson, elaborating on the remarks set out in an interview in The Tribune, writes to the North Dakota Nonpartisan in part as follows:

"We cannot hope to make progress toward political and economic justice unless as an organization we can command the respect and confidence of the rank and file of the progressive voters of the state. This respect and confidence we cannot expect to have if we uphold and defend the Republican party. The Republican party stands in absolute opposition to the progressive program and principles of the Nonpartisan league and its slogan is 'More business in Government and less Government in business,' which is directly opposite to our conception of government which is, that it is the business of government to do whatever is necessary to abolish injustice in whatever form it presents itself; and to bring relief just as surely when injustice uses as a weapon a controlled and men-polized credit or market system as when it uses the less effective weapons of the out-of-date hold up man, the six-shooter and sand-bag."

Most political talk now centers around the league, because of its approaching state convention. The refusal of Justice Bronson to be a candidate for reelection probably will mean the endorsement of a candidate for the supreme court. Among those suggested are Judge M. J. Engler, Judge E. H. Grace and P. D. Garberg. Rep. Frank Vogel, writing The Tribune from Coleharbor, says: "This is to inform you that I am a candidate for no nomination to state office neither would I accept any nomination." No doubt about how he stands. He, probably could get a nomination, too, for he stands high among the leaguers.

Mrs. E. C. Bailey in accepting the nomination by the Republican State Central Committee as a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cleveland writes R. W. Frazier, chairman of that committee, that while she accepts the nomination, from a progressive view point she disapproves of the endorsement of Coolidge and says:

"I sincerely hope the progressive people of our state, who have been struggling to advance the cause of progress, will voice their selection, at the polls, of one who will place this commonwealth back in the ranks of progress where our forefathers intended it should be. To this may we work in union, that we justify our title of progressive republicans."

Roy Frazier, chairman of the Republican State Committee controlled by the league, says he intends to call the committee together in the near future to fill any vacancies that may exist on the slate of 13 delegates for the Republican National Convention. William Stern of Fargo, a Coolidge advocate, has withdrawn from the slate. Mr. Frazier, while being heartily "panned" by many league editors, doubtless feels good over the action of the Divide County league convention which gave him a real welcome and endorsed him for Governor. Mr. Frazier replied he was not a candidate but appreciated the support proffered.

LYNCH HEADS COMMISSION

State Educational Commission Organizes Here

State Senator W. D. Lynch of La Moure was named chairman of the School Finance and Administration Commission named by Governor Nevelos by authority of a resolution of the last legislature, at the first session of the commission here today. E. J. Taylor, state law librarian, was named secretary. Other members of the commission present, are Senator A. G. Storstad and Mrs. Mary F. Strand of Ellendale.

The commission is directed by the legislative resolution to report to the next legislature on means of decreasing expenses of schools.

FLAX TARIFF AID ASKED

Bismarck Association of Commerce Opposes Reduction

Request that North Dakota senators and representatives in Congress be present at hearings before the tariff commission on the question of reducing the flax tariff and oppose a reduction is transmitted in a telegram dispatched today by the Bismarck Association of Commerce. The message is as follows:

"We have been notified that U. S. Tariff Commission will hold hearings in Washington, February 5th, on petitions of soap manufacturers and others who seek to have tariffs on linseed and other vegetable oils lowered, should petitions be granted it will mean we will be unable to secure increase in tariff on flax. It may mean decrease in price of flax and would be detrimental to farmers in North Dakota. We therefore appeal to you as representative of the farming interests of the state to be present at the hearing and protest against such action."

MACDONALD IS FOR ACCORD

Frank Letter Tells Poincare He Wishes to Conciliate

London, Jan. 31.—Premier MacDonald's frank letter to Premier Poincare of France, in which he expressed regret that Franco-British relations were not as cordial as they might be and advanced the hope that France might adopt a conciliatory spirit, was the topic of animated discussion in political and governmental circles today.

It was said authoritatively that the new labor prime minister's letter may be taken as the keynote of the future foreign policy of the government. Mr. MacDonald believes that free and open negotiations along human, liberal, conciliatory lines will bring about settlement of the Ruhr, reparation and palatine questions and the restoration of Europe quicker than the old time secret diplomacy with its uncertainties, suspicions and delays.

How We Spend Your Money

in building Studebaker cars

Why people buy 150,000 yearly

It is true that we spend lavishly on Studebaker cars. But it's all to your advantage.

It is by that spending that we give you the greatest value in the fine-car field. We offer prices no one matches on any comparable cars.

That lavish spending led people last year to pay $200,000,000 for Studebaker cars. And that volume brings our prices down to where they are.

$50,000,000 in plants

Studebaker assets are $90,000,000. In modern plants and equipment we have $50,000,000. Seventy per cent of that amount was spent in the past seven years. So it represents the last word in equipment.

$8,000,000 in drop forge plants, so every vital part is made to Studebaker standards.

$10,000,000 in body plants, so Studebaker ideals may be shown in every body.

All that is staked in a permanent way on satisfying fine-car buyers better than our rivals.

What extras cost

Lack of vibration is a famous Studebaker feature. We get that by machining crank shafts as they were in Liberty Airplane Motors. That extra cost is over $600,000 yearly.

Matchless endurance is another famous feature. One Studebaker Six, still in active use, has run 475,000 miles since 1918. We get that through costly steels. On some we pay 15% bonus to makers to get formulas exact.

Beauty of finish is another supremacy. But that finish requires many operations, including 15 coats of paint and varnish.

Our real leather cushions cost $25 per car over imitation leather.

Every Studebaker car is Timken-equipped. The Special-Six and the Big-Six have more Timken bearings than any car selling under $5,600 in America. The Light-Six more than any competitive car within $1,000 of its price.

In closed cars we offer wondrous luxury. The lining is Chase Mohair, made from the fine fleece of Angora goats. Velour would cost about one-third that, saving up to $100 a car.

Note those bumpers, that steel trunk, those extra disc wheels with cord tires on some models. Note that extra courtesy light. Think what they would cost if you bought them.

The cost of care

The unvarying standards in Studebaker cars are fixed by a department

Don't Buy Blindly

Studebaker is today the leader in the fine-car field.

It has made this concern the largest builder of quality cars in the world.

You can find nothing in cars at $1,000 or over to compare with Studebaker values.

Studebaker sales have almost trebled in the past three years. The growing demand is the sensation of Motordom.

For 72 years the name Studebaker has stood for quality and class. But never so much as today.

Then don't buy a car at $1,000 or over without learning what we offer.

of Methods and Standards. It is enormously expensive.

Our constant improvements are due to ceaseless research. 125 experts devote their time to the study of betterments. They make 500,000 tests per year.

That reliability is due to 12,000 inspections of the material and workmanship in each Studebaker car before it leaves the factory. This requires 1,000 inspectors.

Being generous with men

We pay maximum wages—at least as much as anyone else will pay.

Then we pay extra for continuous service. Last year, 13,000 men in our factories got anniversary checks—total $1,300,000. After five years of service those checks amount to 10% of their wages.

We spend $2,000,000 yearly on our co-operative work for men.

Every year we give factory employees one week's vacation with pay. That cost us $225,000 last year.

We sell them stock on attractive terms. We retire old employees on pensions.

All this to keep men happy, to foster morale, and to keep men with us when they develop efficiency.

Not extravagance

Do such things seem extravagant? They are not. All those extra dollars save more dollars for our buyers.

They result in the cars you see, in the prices and values we offer. Nothing else in the field can compare.

Those values have resulted in a demand for 150,000 cars per year. That volume cuts our costs in two, as compared with limited production.

The cause of over-prices—under-values—is not lavish expenditure.

It is

Limited production, Heavy overhead, Out-of-date machinery, Antiquated methods, Non-economical plants, Transient labor, Discontented workers.

We've eliminated those things. We've done it at what seems to you a heavy cost per car. But each of those extra dollars saves $5, we believe. Note what values and what prices have resulted. Note the amazing demand—the overwhelming demand—it has brought for Studebaker cars.
